

COL. ROOSEVELT WILL BE NOMINEE FOR PRESIDENT

Managers Say There Will Be No Bolt; May Take Matter in Own Hands When Convention Starts

CHICAGO, June 16.—The Roosevelt plans for the fight to be made in the Republican national convention Tuesday were finally adopted at a conference of the Roosevelt leaders tonight under the direction of the colonel himself.

The Roosevelt supporters have determined that the convention shall not be organized with the contested delegates seated by the national committee and to this end they have determined to demand a roll call on the first proposition that comes up. This undoubtedly will come on the right of Governor Johnson of California to cast the 26 votes of that state on the question of temporary chairman.

This right will be questioned by the two Taft delegates from the Fourth district. Then will come the action which the Roosevelt leaders have planned. They will move that the temporary roll as made by the national committee be rejected and that a substitute roll to be prepared by the Roosevelt leaders be adopted. This roll will include the 50 to 80 delegates that Colonel Roosevelt claims were stolen from him and that would be sufficient to give the Roosevelt forces control of the convention.

When asked if he would not consent to submit the question to the convention, Mr. Roosevelt was said to have asked for time in which to consider the question. It is expected he will confer with his associates early tomorrow.

The rules of the committee will apply, answered Mr. Roosevelt.

When asked if he would not consent to submit the question to the convention, Mr. Roosevelt was said to have asked for time in which to consider the question. It is expected he will confer with his associates early tomorrow.

Reports of the plans of Colonel Roosevelt were many. One of those heard often was that if the Roosevelt delegates failed in their first test they would name their own ticket and that two sets of Republican candidates would be selected. Colonel Roosevelt was asked about it.

"That's nonsense," he said.

"But in the event of the delegates who are seated, you consider fraudulent," he was asked, "can you consider a legal convention, would you be sitting in a convention with them?"

Colonel Roosevelt paused for a moment in answering the question.

"We'll cross that bridge when we come to it," he said at last.

Won't Consider Fraudulent Delegates.

"The convention will never recognize fraudulent delegates," said James H. Gardner of Ohio, who would be an official delegate.

"But in case they were seated," he was asked, "would the Roosevelt delegates proceed with the convention and act with them?"

"They could not do so," he replied.

"If they act apart from what you consider a legal convention, would Roosevelt delegates be willing to act in concert with the 250 delegates whose rights to seats are not questioned?"

"Certainly they would," Mr. Gardner responded.

E. A. Van Vlietberg of Philadelphia, who is closely associated with Colonel Roosevelt, said the contested delegates would be eliminated in a parliamentary way. He expressed the opinion that if the test case is made of two California delegates under the plan mapped out, neither they nor the other contested delegates would have the right to vote.

Mr. Roosevelt said he did not know definitely what plan of action would be adopted.

"No decision has been reached," he said, "as to the temporary chairman's chair."

Of a chaos of claims and counterclaims, reports of a "break" to Roosevelt from the Taft ranks and a declaration by the Taft managers that Colonel Roosevelt's attempts to "steal" their delegates had met with failure, there came tonight the frank statement by Roosevelt leaders that regardless of what the final purport of delegates may be, Colonel Roosevelt will leave Chicago a nominee for president.

Will Be No Bolt.

There will be no bolt, they say, but if there is an attempt to make permanent the temporary roll reported by the national committee, the Roosevelt delegates may take matters in their own hands, nominate Mr. Roosevelt in the caucus and claim for him the regularity of the Republican party.

Senator Borah, talked of as the Roosevelt candidate for temporary chairman, discounted all talk of a bolt.

"Personally, I do not believe there is any chance of a third party or a bolt," he said. "History shows conclusively that no successful party was ever born under such auspices. It would be created half formed and would go into the fight with the likelihood of its parent weighing it down."

Others among the Roosevelt supporters said there would be no occasion for a "rump" convention or for a "convention within a convention" in the column. The case they claim would be revealed decisions among the Taft delegates and belief that Colonel Roosevelt will control the situation in the convention proper.

The Taft leaders, however, were confident that the president would be the regular nominee of their party and the delegates would "stick."

The situation continues to hinge on the action of some southern delegates. They appear to hold the balance of power.

It was said tonight that the Roosevelt forces would make their stand in the convention as soon as it is called.

Colonel Roosevelt directed severe criticism against individual members of the committee but Mr. Roosevelt said to have escaped these strictures. Finally the colonel demanded to know what Mr. Roosevelt's attitude was.

DELEGATIONS ARRIVE CHEERING FOR T. R.

Okl. and N. J. Men Headed by Bands March Through the Streets Singing

CHICAGO, June 16.—Headed by "Dynamite Ed" Perry, its chairman, the Oklahoma delegation arrived here today. The delegates and their friends traveled in three special trains, the last of which is expected tomorrow. More than 600 are in the party and the first arrivals, headed by a brass band, marched through the streets to their hotel, waving Roosevelt banners and singing a Roosevelt "Tribute Dances."

The New Jersey delegation also paraded behind a band when it arrived. "Rah, rah, rah, who are we? We are the delegates from New Jersey."

"Are we in it, just you wait. We'll give Teddy 25 straight."

The delegation came into town already organized. Borden D. Whiting was named for national committeeman and as members of committees the following were chosen:

Resolution—George K. Record, credentials, J. Boyd Ayle, rules, James G. McLaughlin, and permanent organization, William G. Lord.

Virginia's delegation arrived late in the afternoon and will caucus tomorrow.

The rival delegations from Massachusetts came in today and opened headquarters in the same hotel. The Roosevelt delegates held an informal meeting in the evening and will go into the full delegate meeting tomorrow with a purpose, "to harmonize things" as to the selection of members for convention committees.

Roosevelt delegates said that there could be no change in the complexion

Colorado Delegates Leave for Chicago

DENVER, June 16.—Five of the eight Colorado delegates-at-large to the Republican national convention at Chicago, two delegates from each of the First and Second districts, and about 30 friends of the delegation, left Denver at noon today aboard the "Centennial State Special" over the Union Pacific railroad for Chicago.

T. H. Devine, Simon Guggenheim and Archie Stevenson, three of the delegates-at-large, have been in Chicago several days. The other delegates left for Chicago yesterday.

The Colorado delegation will select their committeemen while en route in Chicago.

Kills Wife as She Serves Summons in Her Divorce Suit

SAN FRANCISCO, June 16.—Mrs. Victoria Fleeter of this city, was shot four times and fatally wounded today by her husband, Almedo Herbert, who she attempted personally to serve a summons upon him by her own hand.

The shooting occurred in the waiting room of an interurban station at San Mateo, a suburb. Herbert had not his wife there, evidently at her request. Angry words were exchanged and Herbert snatching the summons from her, drew a revolver and fired. The woman ran but was shot down. She died in minutes later.

Herbert, who is a tailor, was arrested.

CONVICT KILLED

COLUMBUS, O., June 16.—Alvin Karpis, a member of the "Public Enemy" who was killed tonight, and John Schindler, who was captured, when they attempted to escape.

Roosevelt and Taft Drafts of a Platform Are Outlined

CHICAGO, June 16.—Both the Taft and Roosevelt drafts of a platform for the Republican party have been outlined, but both can't be put in shape for submission to the committee on resolutions on short notice.

Most of the work on the Roosevelt platform was completed before Mr. Roosevelt's arrival in Chicago, while the first formal meeting over the Taft platform was held today.

The Roosevelt platform is the result of labors of many of his friends, but principally James B. Gardner, Clifford Pinchot and William Allen White of Kansas. All the plans have been designed by the Roosevelt forces.

At today's meeting of Mr. Taft's friends, several drafts were presented, and the meeting was largely for the purpose of selecting from the wealth of materials suggested.

Today's conference was held in Senator Crane's apartment. Among those in attendance to Senator Crane were: Charles D. Hillier, President of the National Association of Manufacturers; McKimley, former Vice President of the platform committee; Senator Elihu Root, Charles Hopkins Clark of Connecticut, President Nicholas Murray Butler, and William Barnes, Jr. of New York.

U. S. SENATOR H. M. TELLER OUT OF IMMEDIATE DANGER

DENVER, June 16.—Former United States Senator Henry M. Teller, aged 80, suffered a stroke early today of his recent illness. Late tonight it was stated he was out of immediate danger.

THREE KILLED AND DOZEN INJURED BY EXPLOSION

LOS ANGELES, June 16.—Three men were instantly killed and more than a dozen injured, some of them seriously, by the premature explosion of six pounds of dynamite in the Clearwater tunnel at the Los Angeles aqueduct, near Rogers, 21 miles north of Los Angeles, early today.

Two bodies, badly mangled, were recovered.

Of the three men at work in the tunnel, but one of two escaped. Most of the men were Russians.

SANTA FE RUSHING MEN TO PROTECT NEEDLES, CAL.

NEEDLES, Cal., June 16.—That a break in the Colorado River levee had occurred at some unknown point, was the belief here tonight, as the river suddenly began to fall early this morning and continued dropping all day. The break is believed to be at some point on the Arizona side.

For several years the greatest damage during high water occurred after the crest of the flood had been reached and the water began to recede, and to combat the situation the Santa Fe railroad is now marshaling hundreds of men and a great quantity of material to protect Needles and the bridges further south.

Recall Will Be Denounced.

The initiative and referendum will not be touched upon by the Taft document, but the recall will be denounced as calculated to undermine

SEEN AT THE CONVENTION.

Victor Roosevelt of Omaha, Neb., chairman of the national committee of the Republican national convention and Mrs. Roosevelt, who is taking a keen interest in the struggle between the Roosevelt and Taft forces at Chicago, are shown at the top. HUERTA MUST FIGHT WAY TO BACHIMBA

Mine Owners Ordered to Pay Back Taxes to Rebels or Forfeit Property

CHIHUAHUA, Mexico, June 16.—Skrimming today between outposts of the federalists and rebels at La Cruz, 20 miles south of Bachimba, the rebel stronghold, resulted in a loss to the government of twelve and the rebels two dead, according to reports tonight to General Orozco's headquarters here.

The rebels were commanded by General Del Toro. Though details of the fighting are few, the significance of the action is that the rebels have determined to make General Huerta, the federal commander, fight every inch of his way north toward Bachimba.

Owners of mines in the territory under revolutionary control, among which are many American and British interests, were today ordered to pay their back taxes to the rebel government. A few mine owners had refused to pay their taxes to the rebels, declaring the money was legally due the constitutional government in Mexico city.

Commander of Rebel Garrison Dies

CHADARA, Mexico, June 16.—Captain Cristobal Amador, commander of the rebel garrison here, died today of delirium tremens and as a consequence, all saloons have been closed.

The garrison of bandits here is one of the remnants of the Mexican Northwest, most of the soldiers being ex-slaves of the reported approach of large federal columns from Sonora.

Trains of government troops stopped a freight train today several miles out from here and took a number of sacks of gold ore, sending back word to the rebels to come out and recover them if they chose. The rebels, suspecting an ambush refused to accept the challenge. No other disturbances were reported today north or south of here along the Mexico-Northwest.

BRYAN CHEERED AT TAFT HEADQUARTERS

CHICAGO, June 16.—William J. Bryan was a center of attraction in the pre-convention scene today, and, though appearing at the headquarters of leaders of a rival party as a newspaper reporter, he was given a demonstration by the throng of visitors and delegates.

Mr. Bryan had a personal chat with Theodore Roosevelt, late in the day, after he had interviewed Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt campaign director and Managing Director, V. Kinley of the Taft bureau.

As he entered the hotel lobby, elbowing his way through the crowd, someone shouted:

"Hurrah for Bryan!" and the Nebraska man was given a demonstrative welcome. He was cheered for several minutes, and continuous cries of "Speech! Speech!" came from all parts of the lobby.

Mr. Bryan waved his hand to the crowd and remarked to those near him that he had come "merely as a newspaper reporter," and not seeking the presidential nomination from a Republican convention.

"I came to see your steam roller," said Mr. Bryan, as he shook hands with Congressman McKinley. "Is it anywhere in sight?"

"No, we have laid it aside," said Mr. McKinley, "but would be glad to lend it to you if you would like to have it at Baltimore."

"Oh, no, we Democrats don't need it," Mr. Bryan laughingly responded. "We are going to hold a model convention."

Plain City, 15 miles west of here, was almost demolished and several persons are reported injured.

Storm Sweeps Clean Path.

Scarcely a house remained standing in the country between Merwin and Adrian. The storm came up suddenly and swept clean its path through the northern section of the county. In one place the storm, in passing over a farm, killed 50 head of live stock, but did no other damage.

The storm struck Bates county half a mile from Merwin. There, when the home of Henry Cramer was destroyed and his three children killed, the wind picked up his body, and it was found, unharmed, a mile from home today. The bodies of Cramer and Fred Cramer were found a mile from their home. They were in the building, which the storm struck.

Telephone wires throughout Bates county are down and the reports have been brought by messengers.

In the country surrounding Sedalia the wires are down but all is being rushed to the only living towns by Warrensburg, Sedalia and Windsor.

Nothing has been heard from the district lying between Warrensburg, Mo., and Butler, Mo., since Saturday.

More than 100 houses were badly damaged and 50 families were displaced. The largest school in the state, at Sedalia, was reported, more than 100 instances being known of homes being blown through the roof, and many houses falling down almost immediately after the storm, parts had left.

Many Lose Lives in Big Cloudburst

GUANAJUATO, Mexico, June 16.—A cloudburst here today flooded the city to a depth of several feet. The loss of life and property was large. The city was almost completely destroyed. The rainfall was greater than in 1905, when more than 2000 lives were lost. The city is in a narrow gorge in which the river runs. Many American mining properties are in the surrounding hills.

After the flood in 1905 a tunnel was cut through the mountains to prevent a recurrence of the disaster. Today the tunnel proved too small to carry off all the water.

NURSE KILLS SELF BY TAKING POISON

NEW YORK, June 16.—Miss Florence Weston, 25 years old, a student nurse at the Postgraduate hospital, killed herself at the Hotel Astor today by drinking poison. She left several letters, one addressed to her mother, Mrs. Florence Weston, Salt Lake City, and another to the coroner.

In the letter she wrote: "I am Florence Weston of Santa Barbara, Cal. I do this cowardly act because I was forced to resign from my school after working so hard with eight months of night duty. I simply could not stand the disgrace. This was the only way out."

The superintendent of nurses and tonight.

Miss Weston resigned last Friday after having violated a rule and knowing that such violation would result in her resignation.

The nature of the infraction was not divulged.

Local Physician Is Arrested on Charge Bigamy and Perjury

CHARGED with bigamy and perjury, Dr. Edgemon D. Welsh, 36 years a physician of this city with offices in the Colorado building, was arrested yesterday morning at Albuquerque, N. M., and will be brought back here for trial, if requisition papers are honored. The complaint was sworn out by Special Officer C. E. Horn of the district attorney's office, and the physician was located and arrested on information furnished the Albuquerque authorities by the Colorado Springs Police. Deputy District Attorney Butler left last night for Albuquerque, and will present the case to the governor of New Mexico, since it is understood that Welsh will fight extradition.

It is claimed that Dr. Welsh left his first wife in Detroit, Mich., several years ago, on removing to Colorado Springs, and that he married wife No. 2, Mrs. Iva S. Welsh, in this city, in August, 1909. He is alleged to have sworn that he was never married before. In taking out his second marriage license, and it is on this ground that the perjury charge is based.

He secured a divorce from wife No. 2 at Castle Rock, Douglas county, last February, on the ground of cruelty, and left Colorado Springs last month. Although his divorced wife did not file a complaint against him, news of his alleged bigamy and perjury came to the ears of the district attorney's office, which secured what is regarded as conclusive evidence against him.

Dr. Welsh's home here was at 911 East Conilla street. Mrs. Iva S. Welsh still lives here.

REPORT CONDITIONS BETTER IN ALASKA

SEWARD, Alaska, June 16.—The revenue cutter Katmai arrived here today direct from Kodiak with the cheering news that conditions in the district covered by ashes from Katmai volcano are much improved and that there is no confirmation of reports of heavy loss of life on the mainland.

All the inhabitants of Katmai, a mainland village near the volcano, are safe, having been taken to Adognak. This explains the failure of the tug Redondo to find any sign of life when she made her cruise off Katmai last Thursday.

The only fatalities known to have resulted from the eruption were a woman and a baby who were dangerously ill and probably would have died.

The livestock on Kodiak island are being taken care of by the government men, although some cattle had to be killed because of the food shortage. Vegetation is said to be growing under the ash, which has settled to a depth of 18 inches, and recent rains have cleared the water.

The tug Tornado made a trip around Adognak island and along the mainland. She reported that conditions were serious but could find no evidence of fatalities.

Quiet; Finds Self in Thick of Fray

CHICAGO, June 16.—Colonel Roosevelt said this morning that Sunday was to be a day of quiet for him. He began the day on that plan but before it was over he found it was not workable.

At 9 o'clock he was having a quiet breakfast with Mrs. Roosevelt. At 11 o'clock he was seated in the Fourth Presbyterian church. At 1 o'clock he was back at his hotel, trying to keep himself secluded in his private suite.
At 3 o'clock he was in his headquarters
for the first time with the announced intention of seeing a few leaders. At 4:30 he broke away from a clamoring crowd which was waiting for him and escaped with the fixed purpose of having his "rested Sunday rest." He spent an hour in an automobile, but when he returned he surrendered completely. At 6 o'clock he was in the thick of the battle and he was fighting hard until bed time.

IOWA DELEGATES CHEER TELEGRAM FROM CUMMINS

CHICAGO, June 16.—Iowa delegates assembled in their headquarters today
and cheered a telegram from their candidate for president, Senator Cummins, expressing appreciation of their support.

The telegram, directed to Senator
Kenyon follows:

I deeply appreciate the best efforts
any man ever had that my friends
want you to express to all my profound gratitude. I have been in a continuous struggle for progressive principles. As a man of action and a man will hold the colors high, so that no man can mistake where I stand. There are other good fighters in Chicago,
but there can be none more valiant,
none more faithful and loyal than the army of Iowa soldiers.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM DRAFTED BY NEWLANDS

HALTMOORE, June 16.—Senator
Newlands of Nevada has drafted a platform which he desires adopted by the Baltimore convention, and today
he came over from Washington to submit it to National Chairman Mack
and other national committeemen.

One plank of Senator Newlands' platform declares that the "constitution should be so amended as to confine the right of suffrage in the future to people of the white race, and favored law prohibiting the immigration to this country of all people other than those of the white race, except for temporary purposes of education, travel and commerce."

LUNA AND IBAN, REBEL LEADERS, REPORTED DEAD

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The Cuban municipality of Cobre has been depopulated as a result of the proclamation of General Antomachi, in command of the second brigade of the revolutionary forces in Cuba, exhorting fugitives to flee from the troubled zone within 24 hours. State department officials say there are 3,000 refugees at El Cobre and a like number at other points.

News has been received at the Cuban legation of the surrender of a large number of insurgents. The message

A WELL COOKED MEXICAN DINNER

From the New York Sun
Those who live in colder climates and sit down to enjoy chili con carne and other Mexican dishes now listed on the menus of city restaurants can have no idea of the gastronomic joy such delicacies give when cooked in Mexican style, in Mexican utensils, and eaten in an atmosphere pervaded with the aroma of semitropical fruits and flowers.

The hacienda of the wealthy Mexican planter is the ideal place in which to enjoy real, mellow Mexican cooking. One who gets the privilege of dining with the administrator, his family and his staff of 20 or 30 foremen will never forget the experience. First, the house, usually a great stone building completely surrounding a roughly paved court, is cool and inviting. Up a flight of stairs and looking out on a wide veranda is the dining room.

Already the odor of cooking has permeated the vicinity of the central kitchen. And such a meal as those odors forecast! For excellence of service a dinner the written word could not have been surpassed anywhere.
There were some 12 courses, one thing
being at a time and all well cooked.

Tortillas, hot and appetizing, came as a distinct surprise to one who has eaten some sort of concoction in the States which is supposed to bear resemblance to the famed Mexican product. After them came the beef, of beef, stewed and topped off with chili that was a revelation. Then came fried bananas, the like of which never tempted the patron of a Broadway restaurant no matter how great the pursue nor how skilled the chef.

The duties which followed needs a paragraph all to itself. That day it was shredded coconut cooked with sugar and slightly browned. Delicious is not the word. A honest delicacy fit for the gods would give a certain idea of its edibility. It was served from a large platter kept hot and replenished much the same as homemade wheat cakes are hurried from griddle to plate.

A few more delightful little accessories and then came a cup of after-dinner coffee which would make a Greek purveyor of rare blends in Madison street envious. The wonder was that such a meal could be prepared on a brasserie, and the kitchen was visited with eager curiosity.

There was the brasserie, a stove made of brick and extending around two sides of the room. No steam, no smoke. Very little heat seemed to radiate from the coals. How gently the jars were boiling, and oh, the patience of the cook moving from one earthenware dish to another! Now and then she fanned the coals to enlive them. There was not a single iron kettle of skill.

IS GOLF SCOTCH OR DUTCH?

Some of the Ancient Game's Terms
Come From Holland

From Answers, London
The origin of golf, one of the most popular pastimes in the United Kingdom, has generally been ascribed to Scotland. But this is a fallacy.
Lately, however, it is asserted that it is to Holland we owe this game, and that it was brought from Holland to Scotland.

For instance, the name "golf" itself
is derived from the Dutch word "kolf," meaning a bat or club. "Fore!" the word shouted before driving off—is derived from the Dutch word "voor," meaning, in front.

From "putten"—the Dutch word to hole—we get our English word put, and niblick—the Scotch "knibloch," a knowof wood—is derived from the Dutch knobbelachtig, meaning knotty.

"IRON MAN" OF THE ROOSEVELT FORCES.

Ex-Senator William H. H. Woodruff, known for his forcefulness as a political leader, who is the head of the Roosevelt vigilance committee in Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Announcement of the defection of former Lieutenant Governor Philip Woodruff of New York has just as- sured the colonel that he will vote for Roosevelt," said Mr. Van Valkenberg.

Mr. Woodruff states that the gross and intentional misstatements shown in the reporting of the local colored delegates have forced him to adopt this course.
The Woodruff incident led to considerable talk that some other Brooklyn delegates would go with him. The Taft leaders rounded up a statement renewing their allegiance to Mr. Taft's candidacy. The statement was signed by 12 of the 18 delegates from Kings county.

The four Brooklyn men appearing on the temporary roll call, who did not sign the statement were Timothy L.
Woodruff, William A. Prandegast,
David Towle and Jacob T. Holtman.

ANNIVERSARY OF THE HANDKERCHIEF

From the London Globe.

A curious anniversary which fell on the second of last month has passed unobserved. It is the anniversary of the introduction of the pocket-handkerchief in the form we know it. In early time and well up to the period of the French Revolution, the handkerchief was of various shapes, each country having its own style.

One day at the Trianon, Marie Antoinette remarked that it would be an improvement if handkerchiefs were made square. Louis XVI adopted the suggestion, and on January 2, 1785, issued the following decree: "The length of handkerchiefs manufactured in this kingdom shall henceforth be equal to the breadth." The establishment distributed everything that savored of royalty, yet they did not interfere with this decree.

Not An Experiment

Paint, Lick, Ky.—Mrs. Mary Freeman, of this place, says: "Before I commenced to take Cardui, I suffered so much from womanly troubles, I was so weak that I was down on my back nearly all the time. Cardui has done me more good than any medicine I ever took in my life. I can't possibly praise it too highly. You need not be afraid to take Cardui. It is no new experiment. For fifty years, it has been found to relieve headache, backache, and similar womanly troubles. Composed of gentle-acting, herb ingredients, Cardui builds up the strength, preventing much unnecessary pain. Try it for your troubles, today."

HAD BEEN IN POOR HEALTH FOR OVER FIVE YEARS

Condition Grew Worse—Ambition and Strength Were Gone.

NERVOUS DEBILITY HAD GRIP ON HIM

I Heard of Tona Vita. It Helped Me Right Away. Has Made New Man of Me.

Mr. E. L. Williams, of No. 104 1/2 East Pike Peak Avenue, prominently connected with the Magons, made the following statement recently in connection with Tona Vita, the medicine that is now being introduced with such great success in Colorado Springs: "After using about one bottle of Tona Vita, I feel like a new man. Previous to taking the tonic I had no life or ambition and could not take any interest in my work, as I was very nervous. My stomach also was in bad condition and I was generally run down but these troubles seem to have entirely left me and I feel better than I have for the last five years. I will certainly recommend it to anyone in my condition."

The specialists who are introducing Tona Vita in Colorado Springs, are giving demonstrations of what the medicine will do in five minutes. And the Colorado Springs public are flocking to the store where they are located. One of the specialists said that Tona Vita will break all records in this country; people are just beginning to realize what a great preparation it is. Thousands upon thousands in this and other large cities are afflicted with general debility. The entire system becomes affected in such cases and nervousness, stomach trouble, headache, backache, despondency and loss of vitality result. Tona Vita will work wonders in such cases in a remarkably short time.

"We have predicted all along that every man or woman affected with nervous debility, who would give Tona Vita a fair test, would become a walking advertisement for our remedy, and indeed from the results in Colorado Springs we are correct," said one of the specialists. "Anyone," continued he, "who has been a constant sufferer from debility is sure to tell about it when he finds something that will give him genuine relief."

The public do not recognize the symptoms of this modern malady and it would be well for as many as can to visit the Robinson Drug Company, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 8 p. m. this week, and have the specialists explain these, as well as the nature of the remedy.

PROPELLING THE LARGEST STEAMER IN THE WORLD

The most powerful marine engines ever constructed are those installed in the steamship Imperator of the Hamburg-American line. The great liner, which surpasses all previous standards for size, luxury and safety at sea, naturally presents an unprecedented problem for the engineer. To drive this enormous steel vessel, weighing 50,000 tons, it will be necessary to install engines capable of developing 70,000 horsepower. The Imperator is not expected to establish a new time record for crossing the Atlantic. She will be driven at the average speed of about 22 1/2 knots an hour, thus insuring the maximum comfort.

The Imperator will have four propellers, driven by the Parsons turbine engines. This simplified form of engine, or direct drive system, is believed to have many advantages over the more common form of reciprocating engine. The turbine, briefly, is an arrangement of blades set around an axle, so arranged as to obstruct the flow of steam injected into the machine. The pressure of the steam acting against the spirals naturally causes them to revolve, thus carrying the axle around at high speed. This adjustment is very delicate, even in a small engine of this type. In the case of turbines of the size of those of the Imperator, the construction is a marvel of engineering skill. One turbine alone is capable of developing 22,000 horsepower. The castings, when assembled, weigh 350 tons. This enormous cylinder, with its spirals, must be so delicately adjusted as to prevent the escape of steam under enormous pressure.

PRODUCE NEARLY ALL OUR OWN SALT

Michigan is the second salt-producing state in importance in the Union, being surpassed only by New York. The output of salt in the state in 1910, according to the United States geological survey, was 9,452,022 barrels, or 1,823,293 tons, valued at $2,215,282. Our total salt production in 1910 was 39,365,396 barrels, imported, valued at $370,922. At the same time we exported 38,000,000 barrels of salt. The salt production for 1911 will show an increase over the figures for the preceding year.

SOCIALIST PARTY OPENS CAMPAIGN

CHICAGO, June 16.—The first campaign in which the Socialist party has had a complete ticket in a state was opened here this afternoon. Eugene V. Debs and Emil Seidel, the Socialist candidates for president and vice president of the United States, made the chief addresses. Both candidates spoke in River View park.

Mr. Debs said in part: "In this campaign there are but two parties and but one issue. The so-called Republican and Democratic parties are substantially one in what they stand for, opposed to each other on no question of principle, but purely in a contest for the spoils of office."

"We are going to this city at this hour an exhibition of capitalist machine politics which lays bare the true inwardness of the situation in the capitalist company. Nothing that any Socialist has ever charged in the way of corruption is to be compared with what Taft and Roosevelt have charged and proved upon one another. They are both good Republicans, just as Harrison and Bryan were both good Democrats, and they are all agreed that Socialism would be the ruin of the country."

Suffragists Hear Teddy's Stand From Judge Ben Lindsey

CHICAGO, June 16.—Suffragists, at a meeting today in recognition of Colonel Roosevelt's announced stand in favor of woman suffrage, heard from Judge Lindsey of Denver how the former president told the judge of his position. It was Judge Lindsey who made the public statement that the national would favor equal suffrage.

The intimate I mentioned woman suffrage to him, his teeth came together with a click," said Judge Lindsey. "Then he said I am for woman suffrage without any qualification whatsoever. Knowing I was telling the truth, and that there was no danger of my being put in the Annals club I broke the news to the press."

"There will be 18 men for Roosevelt and 18 men for Taft," said Charles L. Haxtor, of the Roosevelt delegation.

The Connecticut Taft delegation of 14 arrived, bringing with them nearly a hundred enthusiasts, including the alternates, Republican state leaders and visitors to the convention.

The Nevada delegation elected some of its committeemen while en route, and on arrival today announced them, as follows:

AERO CLUB'S GRAND PRIX WORTH $10,000 IS FAILURE

ANGERS, France, June 16.—A heavy rain and a wind of hurricane force contributed today to the practical failure of the Aero club's grand prix, worth $10,000, known as the Aviation derby. Because of weather conditions many builders refused to permit their pilots to risk their lives.

The derby course measured 653 miles or seven times around a triangle from Angers to Chatelet to Sumar to Angers. The conditions provided that the three laps must be completed today and the other four tomorrow. Only seven of the 35 machines entered started. Of these only three, piloted by Roland G. Glatros, completed the three laps before the timing gun was fired at 7:30 p. m. The total time was seven hours and 55 minutes.

A RAT'S WINTER STORE

From the London Chronicle. A fisherman named Macdonald, of the island of Strom, in the Hebrides, recently killed a huge rat, which measured 16 inches from nose to tail. Near its own little den the rat had a mysterious store of good things laid up for the winter. There were 115 sand eels, four inches long; nine young cod, nine inches long; and 32 birds. All these goodies were deposited methodically in different places, and no human skill could have concealed the winter's hoard more neatly.

Oil of lavender, sprinkled about book shelves, will prevent their contents mildewing.

whose birthplace was believed to be Kamchatka, in Asia, and it is almost certain that these people came from northern Asia. Their appearance is more of the Mongolian, and in appearance they have much the same skill and craftsmanship as the Japanese. The Aleut is superior to the native race. He is cleaner of habit than the Eskimo and more willing to work.

The Aleuts occupy the island peninsula of Alaska, and number about one thousand. They are well educated, and have been well educated for the seal industry, the balance having nothing left but fish, a few foxes and the basket industry. The time was when they were employed to kill seal; also their tribe supplied the men that manned the sea otter boats, and killed that most valuable of furs.

These furs are practically a thing of the past and the government has prohibited both the whites and the natives from killing any of them. This is not adding greatly to their troubles, for these fur animals of the sea are now so scarce as to be of little benefit to the Aleuts any more.

The basket industry is now being almost entirely abandoned. Their baskets, though the finest in any market, bring them less than one-fourth the retail price, and provisions sell to them at about three times the cost.

A woman will work two weeks to make a basket, and then get $2 for it. A man will work a month, and get $10 for a pound of sugar and seven cents for a pound of flour, and what for clothing. The father can get a few fish to dry, gather a few drift sticks as thrown up by the sea, as no timber is found on the islands. In winter he catches a very few blue fox, perhaps four or five, at six dollars each.

Curio seekers pay fabulous prices for an Aleut basket, which is, in truth, one of the best that can be had; the most artistic, the finest weave and the most beautiful of design. One of the prettiest baskets I ever secured came from the house of a widow at the figure of $2.50; a full two weeks' work!

THE DRY FARMING PROBLEM

IN A recent interview given out by a prominent official of the United States Department of Agriculture the statement was made that every effort was being exerted in the direction of establishing experimental farms in the semiarid regions of Colorado. It is sincerely to be hoped that this information is founded upon fact. Dry farming, carried on under modern rules and the application of proper methods together with the proper choice of vegetable and foliage plants to the conditions, is successful. In other words, the returns received on the amount invested in the purchase of the land and the labor bestowed upon it warrants and justifies the settlement and cultivation of the land.

Dry farming, however, as it is too often practiced, without any fixed or definite method of procedure, is indeed a tragedy—nothing more and nothing less. The question of the establishment of experimental stations by the State and Federal governments is one that admits of no negative position. In the state of Oklahoma, where it is reported that between 60 and 70 experiment stations have been established in cooperation, the farming of the arid regions has proven quite successful and remunerative where the amount invested, as before stated, is taken into consideration.

Here in Colorado we have been harassed and hampered by a listless, lifeless and insipid state administration.

No effort has been made, and there is no hope held out that one will be made, to educate colonists to the art or profession of dry farming. In Oklahoma, northern Texas and other states where semi-arid conditions prevail the people have made an effort to educate, assist and care for the colonists. Here in Colorado the state has made a whirlwind of noise, but in order that the poor might be sheltered and fed in these sections, when dry years came, the individual citizens have been compelled to render the assistance necessary.

The greatest measure of success is obtained by the dry farmer where he adapts his crop to arid conditions. In Oklahoma, milo, maize, Kaffir corn and Spanish peanuts represent the predominating crops. It is claimed that these are practically drought-resistant. At any rate, the farmers are producing such crops successfully year after year and acquiring modest fortunes as farmers, dairymen and stock-raisers.

The unfortunate condition confronting Colorado can be attributed to the lack of sincerity, in many instances, of the State and the people in failing to fully advise colonists and new settlers as to the causes which lead to failure in the semi-arid regions. The establishment of experimental stations by the government in this particular locality would serve to make the best methods available to settlers, actual and potential, and it is to be hoped that immediate action will be taken to serve the purpose suggested.

THE HARMONY OF SENTIMENT
 STUDENTS of psychology have commented upon the conditions leading to the candidacy of popular candidate. When the great mass of the people have finally arrived at a conclusion and these conclusions are strangely simultaneous, it appears under such conditions that popular sentiment sweeps like a tidal wave in one direction and to attempt to stop or divert it would be as foolish and ill-advised as it would be to attempt to turn back the tide of Mother Ocean with a pitchfork.

Here in Colorado the people have had a strong illustration of this phenomenon. When the candidacy of Philip B. Stewart for Governor was announced a little more than a month ago the people of the State, who had apparently been in a passive condition, were electrified. The statement issued by him giving the people an idea of the platform he purposed to make the race upon met with popular approval from every section of the State.

Since that time several aspirants for the Governorship have thrown their doll hoods into the ring, but the calm surface of public sentiment has not suffered a ripple. In other words, that peculiar condition requiring the time, the man, and the place has been met. While this is true, that other candidates may go before the people seeking their suffrage at the primaries it is also true that Mr. Stewart will undoubtedly receive an overwhelming majority of the votes cast because in him the people recognize the man to meet the conditions of the present.

THE HOME RULE PETITION

ON June 9 The Gazette published a comprehensive letter from former Mayor Henry C. Hall which demonstrated beyond any doubt the extreme importance of the Home Rule amendment to the people of Colorado Springs. If the amendment is to go before the people next fall the initiative petition must be signed by at least 18,000 voters previous to July 5 next.

The reason that the Home Rule amendment is being initiated is that a recent decision of the Supreme Court of Colorado indicates that that Court would hold the non-partisan elections of all charter cities void. If the constitution is not amended, and if the city officials of Colorado Springs and of the other charter cities in the State are declared to be elected illegally it will throw city affairs into the utmost confusion. The remedy is clear. Every voter interested in good government should sign the Home Rule petition at his, or her, first opportunity.

WORLD'S AUTO RECORDS.

From the Philadelphia Public Ledger.
 The dramatic uncertainties of competition in automobile races were illustrated in the unexpected victory of Dawson over De Palma in the 500-mile sweepstakes at the Indianapolis speedway, and it was also demonstrated that on a proper course, with ample police protection, the element of risk to spectator and contestant is minimized. The most gratifying aspect of the race is that no one was injured.

With only two laps remaining, a distance of five miles, the leader, who was six laps ahead, was forced to give way owing to the breakdown of his engine, and prizes amounting to $5,000 were snatched from his grasp. Ralph de Palma proved himself a good sportsman by his courageous cheerfulness in the hour of defeat.

The distance of 500 miles was covered in the record time of 6 hours 21 minutes and 5 seconds. On May 30, 1911, Harroun won the race with a record of 6 hours 42 minutes and 3 seconds. Dawson this year averaged 78.6 miles an hour; Harroun's average was 74.61 miles.

VICTIMS OF TIPPING.

From the New York Tribune.
 The waiters are victims of the tipping system. They complain of the conditions of their employment, but those conditions are the result of the tipping system. Their employers pay them little because they are supposed to reap large rewards from the gratuities of the patrons. In their eagerness for the license to make what they can out of serving in dining rooms the waiters have put up with a system of fines which suppresses the public as unjust, and often, if their complaints are true, with poor food and oppressive treatment. Meanwhile, the tipping system has so developed as to make the waiter a large dispenser of tips himself. The head waiter, captain, omnibus, a number of cooks and kitchen men all have to be tipped by the waiter. The more complex restaurant conditions become the more persons there are with whom the gratuity is to be divided. Moreover, the patron himself finds others in restaurants besides the waiter to tip directly. Doubtless this has some influence upon the size of tips to waiters.

Another effect of the tipping system is to be seen in the absence of public sympathy with the waiters. Their demands are moderate. Probably most of them are reasonable, since some employers grant them at once. The conduct of the strikers has been in the main beyond criticism. Yet the public has been indifferent and inclined to regard the situation humorously. The reason seems to be that every one feels it to be superfluous to waste sentiment upon what are universally held to be the fortunate beneficiaries of the tipping system. By one sympathizer appears, Haywood, of the Industrial Workers of the World. And if the arid waiters yield to his persuasions they will be victims of something worse than the tipping system.

MR. ROCKEFELLER AS A WITNESS.

From the New York American.
 The American has seldom printed anything more interesting than its verbatim report of John B. Rockefeller's testimony before the commission appointed to investigate the Waters-Pierce-Standard oil control for control of the former company. No more exact, subtle, noncommittal, impossible witness ever took the stand.
 Samuel J. Pierpont, penetrating cross-examiner as he has proved himself in a thousand legal battles, felt compelled at the end of two hours' bombardment of Mr. Rockefeller to exclaim in despair: "I submit, Mr. Commissioner, that the witness has not answered a single question."
 As a psychological study, Mr. Rockefeller on the witness stand was of infinite interest. The American question-and-answer report is, therefore, an invaluable addition to the human documents of the day. Had all the oil king's associates always possessed and exercised his almost superhuman ingenuity even the farcical conviction of the trust would have been impossible. Said the London Economist a fortnight ago:

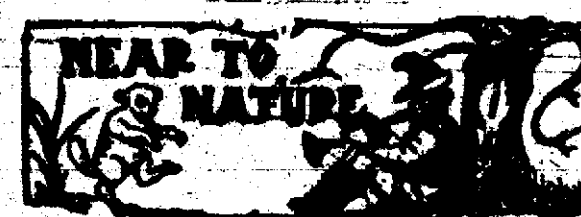

"The politicians attack the Standard Oil corporation, but they forget that there are more brains behind the Standard Oil crowd than there are behind the whole United States government at Washington."

"I sign proxies every day," was about all that could be wrung from the witness. The Waters-Pierce ones were just like others, and he signed them offhand. No, he never stopped to think what the consequences would be—no mistakes had ever been made in signing the proxies submitted to him. There was nothing unusual in this instance, not a thing. Mr. Pierpont could be amazed of that. But that was all Mr. Rockefeller would assure Mr. Pierpont.

When apparently cornered, Mr. Rockefeller would blandly reply that the question was too long.

 On the 27th we met a lively crowd at Mr. J. R. Garrett's, a well-to-do farmer; has such a fine home and is so nicely prepared to spend old age. His family is himself, wife Mrs. Lissa, Miss Emma and Miss Sarah Mahory, all three of which are sisters. I can say they are the most loving, affectionate people I ever witnessed in all my life and the dinner consisted of chicken, cake, pie, pickles and half a never yet been told. On the 30th we were invited to visit Dick Mallory's home. Himself and wife and one son and one daughter, Sally Ann and Jess are the names. Jess is a fine fellow and wears a smile for every one. Do you occasionally criticize a man because he does not do that which you cannot do yourself?

I know a man who died lately of food delirium tremens; he had stuffed himself for years, and taken almost no exercise. He supposed that if he let whisky alone, he was a temperate man.

Some people become so busy that they have no time to do anything.

Although newspaper reporters are tolerably busy, they don't interview one-tenth of the people who are anxious to be interviewed.

A man needs friends not to flatter him, but to strengthen him at his weak points.

The old-fashioned family was satisfied with a horse and buggy; now it's a touring car.

Every friendship has its foundation a little of the mutual admiration idea.

A Leaf From the Boy Scouts' Book
 By RUTH CAMERON.

"If you were on a train and there was an accident, and everything was thrown into confusion, and perhaps there was darkness, would you know in what part of the train to look for the emergency tools and the fire extinguisher?"

If you were asleep in your berth on a ship and were awakened suddenly by being told that the ship was sinking and you must get into a life-preserver, would you know where to look for one and how to put it on?

Two young women were taking a one-night trip on a steamer. As they were preparing for bed, one of them paused to read the printed instructions in regard to life-preservers, and even took the pains to look under the berth to see if they were there and to make sure that she thoroughly understood the directions about adjusting them.

The other girl was most amused at all this precaution—needless to say this was prior to April 14—and urged her companion to stop talking all that nonsense and come to bed. Previous to the terrible disaster that shocked and sobered a world of men who had been growing blantly confident of their superiority to nature and the elements, I wonder how many voyagers would have carefully read these instructions. Perhaps one in ten. Or had I better say one in a hundred?

For the next few years, until we have had time to forget, I suppose we shall all be more thoughtful in this particular direction. But what about taking a little forethought in regard to what we would do in case of other kinds of accidents?

Do you notice the exit signs in a theater before you compose yourself to enjoy the play? It would take but an instant and might mean your life. Fortunately the chance that you would need your knowledge is very, very slight, but on the other hand, you are not risking anything on that long chance except a moment's attention.

A car full of passengers probably owe their limbs, if not their lives, to one young man who thought if worth while to know what to do in case of accident. The motorman fainting when the car was on a steep down grade. Instant action was necessary as there was a hairpin curve at the bottom. This man had deliberately noticed the method of running the car because he thought it would be a good thing to know, and he was able to throw on the brakes with lightning swiftness.

I am very fond of the Boy Scouts' motto which is "Semper Paratus"—"always ready." Surely a great many accidents might have been prevented or at least made less terrible if more of us lived that motto.

Someone may suggest that it is not a pleasant thing to be always expecting an accident. No, my friend, but you need not be always expecting an accident. Just "semper paratus," you know. Really that's quite a different thing.

HAVE JEWELS LIFE?

Scientists Say Precious Stones Are Influenced by Surroundings

From the St. Louis Republic.
 If the views of Marconi, Edison or the Wright brothers were ventilated 50 years ago upon the inventions that have now made their names famous a commission would have been appointed to ascertain their sanity, with the strong probability of their consignment to a lunatic asylum.

Every reform, radical invention or pronounced divergence from the traditional path of common acceptance has been secured after a certain amount of incredulity has been disclosed and reluctance displayed as to its worth, and yet this is not to be wondered at when one recalls Galileo, Columbus, Newton, Watt and others who were made the target for ridicule and reproach. Yet the problems of gravitation, equipage, generation and circulation were solved and proven as absolute truth to latter-day scientists.

The printing press, the linotype, photograph, wireless telegraph, autograph, wirephoto, telephone and aviation have all been demonstrated as efficacious actualities. The various sciences, professions, and, in fact, creeds, have undergone such radical changes that a new religious cult today is accepted as a mere matter of fact, its doctrine propounded, and, if reasonably sane, is received as a token of profession or religious evolution.

Various religious beliefs and social fraternities have been founded upon mythical themes and customs, and the observances and demonstrations thereof are but the reflections of paganism; nevertheless, the democracy of modern religion is such that a certain acceptance is allowed to any new contention, provided it bears a reasonable amount of logical argument and respectability. This same tolerance also applies to research in natural laws.

The existing relations of the human, animal, vegetable and mineral kingdoms are being daily augmented by new discoveries and affiliations, with the result that anything seems plausibly authentic, that can, by the smallest thread of possibility, be allied with anything that now exists, and is understood.

Discovery of New Force.

The latest addition to scientific research is the discovery of a new force in nature, the force of sympathetic influence between the human and mineral kingdoms, thus reaching one step nearer the goal of perfect harmony in things that exist.

Geologists contend that certain minerals and metals become sympathetically susceptible to certain human or animal surroundings and influences; that certain gems increase in brilliancy and value when surrounded by harmonious conditions while others diminish in size and luster by negative associations. That pearls when hidden in the darkened recesses of a oyster for lose their luster and that an opal's brilliancy is dimmed by a higher atmospheric temperature; but the best affirmation is that favorite jewels, veritably fade when relegated to the jewel case or the misfortune of compulsory ostracism to the pawnbroker's safe.

If lapidarians frankly admit their utter ignorance of the composition, crystallization or chemicalization that constitutes the diamond, ruby, emerald and other precious stones, Prof. A. Dastre, in his recently published book on "Life and Matter," flatly declares: "Life as far as we know has always existed," and "under suitable circumstances the lowest animated forms are immortal." That "nutrition is the chief characteristic of living beings," and that "a similar nutrition is found in crystals, with the difference that crystalline nutrition consists in simple outward accretion, while living nutrition involves penetration of sustenance to the interior. Summed up, the general similarity in the behavior of protoplasm and crystals makes it difficult to draw a line."

Why, therefore, is it not probable that gems possess a life not as yet officially discerned, and that this life responds with the sympathetic influence that flowers and animals disclose when in contact with associations that are congenial?

If scientists can thus dimly trace the life line that marks the classification of kingdoms, and point with assurance to the link that annexes the human to the animal kingdoms, and with more broadly defined indications trace the affiliation of the animal to the vegetable and the vegetable to the mineral, why should not an hypothesis be allowed to assimilate the two more distant links and recognize the possibility of minerals possessing life equal to the vegetable or animal kingdoms, and the paramount right to exist—live—and feel like the sister realms that possess no great charms or afford greater pleasures than they do? Many society and professional women have recently taken up the study of gemstones and their influence in nature's laws, with the results that clubs have been formed and circles organized to discuss the matter.

Blanche Bates' "Spoilt Children."
 At a recent gathering of prominent players, Blanche Bates, a woman noted for her astute propensities and lack of fads or hobbies, positively affirmed that her jewels sympathize with her in her troubles and rejoice with her when she is happy. Here is what she says: "My jewels are like spoilt children. They are happiest when they are carried about with me; days when I am discontented they lose their interest, and when I'm happy, their brilliancy improves. Some geologists say that it is purely the result of physical contact and conditions, but I prefer to think my own way—it's more consoling and just as feasible."

"Would it not be a pretty thought to imagine that precious stones had lives to live and souls to guard just like you and me?"

"Have you read 'The Birth of the Opal' by Ella Wheeler Wilcox? That poem has more than a poetic sentiment behind it, and some day someone with a great mind will reveal to us the mystery of the opal, the pearl and the diamond."

Why not temper our prosaic life with a touch of romance and favor the belief that gems live?

THE HASKIN LETTER

NATIONAL CONVENTIONS. XX—M'KINLEY AND BRYAN

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

In 1896, both Democratic and Republican parties were disrupted by the currency issue, and the nominations of McKinley by the Republicans, and Bryan by the Democrats ended the era of "normal" politics. McKinley was triumphant, after the most hotly contested presidential campaign of our history, and from that day until the Democrats won the house of representatives in 1910, the Republicans never lost a national election—14 years of undisputed dominance. Yet the Democratic stood by the action of their convention of that year and, since then, Mr. Bryan has twice been their choice for president, and he still is the "peerless leader" to the great masses of his party.

The Republican convention of 1896 named McKinley, who was successful, but by far greater interest attaches to the Democratic convention that selected his unsuccessful rival. The Republicans met at St. Louis on June 16. Mark Hanna had been in charge of the pre-convention campaign for McKinley, and he had done his work so well that while a great majority of Republican leaders in congress were for Thomas B. Reed, they had on the first ballot, receiving 561 votes, as against 84 for Reed, 81 for Quay, 58 for Levi P. Morton, 35 for Allison and one for Don Cameron.

Currency Question Main Issue.

Before the nomination was made a platform had been adopted that contained a coin standard plank, based upon the unwilling Hanna by T. C. Platt. It was the end of straddling on the silver question. The currency question had been a cross-current in politics for 20 years; now it was the main issue and nothing could prevent it.

When the Republican party took the old side, 34 delegates, led by Senator Teller of Colorado, Senator Dubois of Idaho and Senator Cannon of Utah, walked out of the convention into the Democratic party. The silver question was soon eliminated as an issue in politics, but the bolters from the Republican convention of 1896 nearly all remained Democrats—Teller and Dubois to serve for years in the senate, and now Dubois is the manager of Speaker Clark's campaign for the Democratic nomination.

The Democrats met at Chicago on July 7. The pre-convention fight had been exciting, but the struggle for delegates had been between gold men and silver men, between Clevelandites and anti-Clevelandites, rather than in the interest of any particular aspirant for the nomination.

Repeals Silver Purchasing Clause.
 Grover Cleveland was president of the United States and the titular leader of the Democratic party, but his party had repudiated him in more than two-thirds of the country. He had been elected as a tariff reformer. He found a ready-made panic on his hands when he went into office. He was forced to sell bonds to buy gold to keep up the treasury reserves. He called congress in extraordinary session, not to revise the tariff, but to repeal the silver purchasing clause of the Sherman act. This he accomplished by the help of a majority of the Republicans and a minority of the Democrats. The last filibuster against the repeal in the house of representatives was vainly led by William Jennings Bryan and Joseph Gurney Cannon, having behind them 21 other silver men—some Democrats and some Republicans.

The Cleveland gold men came to Chicago knowing that they were in a minority, but resolved to save something from the wreck if possible. They controlled the national committee, which was gill loyal to the repudiated administration. The national committee heard the contents from the states and made up the temporary roll. There were two rival delegations from Nebraska. One was headed by Tobias Cantor, and represented the J. Sterling Morton or administration faction. The other was headed by ex-congressman Bryan, who had just come from reporting the St. Louis convention for an Omaha newspaper. It represented the silver wing of the party. The national committee seated the Cantor delegation. Daniel Chosen Temporary Chairman. It also selected David B. Hill of New York as temporary chairman by a vote of 27 to 23. The minority selected Senator John W. Daniel of Virginia for temporary chairman. William F. Harritt, chairman of the national committee, presented Hill's name, Henry D. Clayton of Alabama the name of Daniel. Daniel was chosen by a vote of 536 to 349.

The convention then selected its committee on credentials, which promptly reversed the decision of the national committee in the Nebraska contest, unseated the Cantor delegation, and seated the Bryan men. But at that time only Mr. Bryan, his wife and one or two good friends knew that there was such a thing as a Bryan presidential boom. Mr. Bryan was put on the resolutions committee in the place of an ousted Morton delegate, and there he had much to do with writing the famous platform of 1896.

The gossips were talking of "Silver Dick" Bland of Missouri, of Horace Boies of Iowa, and of many dark horses. Bland had the largest following, but the field was against him. John I. McLean had the support of Ohio and the District of Columbia. He was the most radical of the free silver men. He wanted the platform confined to the one issue of 16 to 1. The senatorial contingent favored the nomination of Senator Teller, who a few weeks before had bolted the nomination of McKinley. But the dark horse who was to win the race was yet too far in the background to be noticed.

Big Fight on Free Silver Plank.
 When the platform was reported, it contained the expected free silver plank, and the big fight began. Bland, R. T. Hillman, then the fiery "Bland-Ben," led off—frankly avowing a sectional alliance of the south and west against the east. The gold men blushed and the silver men were not pleased. James K. Jones of Arkansas quickly disavowed Tillman's sectional views, but the silver men were still at a disadvantage. Senator Hill of New York and Governor Russell of Massachusetts, leaders of the eastern Democracy, then attacked the platform and riddled it with shot and shell. The silver men were decidedly uncomfortable. The gold minority was jubilant.

Then came Bryan. Thirty-six years old, slender, graceful, and all but unknown, he took the platform. He reached the end of his first period, he gave an applause event over the great convention hall. Then came absolute silence. He had enchanted his audience. Even the telegraph boys, carrying copy from the press seats, stopped to listen.

At last the silver men had found a champion who could reflect their sentiments and defend their position. After silence came rapt attention, and after attention came conviction of the sincerity and earnestness of the speaker. At last came the famous peroration—"You shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold!"

The convention went wild. Bryan was the only calm man there. Men seized the standards which marked the sections, and they were waving them and yelling to group them about the speaker's stand. The silver men were wild with joy. The gold men sat in a silence that partook of awe. The newspaper men telegraphed everywhere that Bryan would be the nominee.

Bryan Nominated by a Stampede.
 That night his name was placed in nomination by a delegate from Georgia. The balloting began the next day. Bland was first and Bryan second in the first ballot. Bryan went ahead on the fourth, and on the fifth he was nominated by a stampede.

Illinois intended to lead the break to Bryan on the fifth ballot, but when the roll was begun, the Illinois men were out of the hall for consultation. Big Ollie James announced the withdrawal of Blackburn, Kentucky's favorite son, and voted for Bryan. That started the ball rolling, and when the changes were made, Bryan had nearly all the votes except those of

DR. J. F. DICKEL TALKS ON THE INFLUENCE OF MEN

Dr. J. F. Dickel of Boulder addressed the men's mass meeting at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon on "The Influence of Men." He took the text from Acts, 11:17: "Your young men shall see visions." He spoke of the influence of the old on the young, and the fact that every boy looks for an ideal in some man and follows it, whether for good or bad. He referred to the influence of men as the giant of the world today.

Dr. Dickel regards the church as the biggest institution in existence, with the greatest power for the good of humanity, in that it lays hold of the inner life of men. He pointed out that the world is buying the best of manhood, and urged that religion be made worth while in order that young men will make it their life work.

The song service was directed by Harry Franks.

ORGANIZER SPRINGS

SOCIALISTS OUSTED

T. M. Fisher Expelled Because He Refuses to Quit Direct Legislation League

Theodore M. Fisher, probably the real organizer of the Socialist party local in Colorado Springs, was declared no longer a member of the local body, at its meeting last night, because of his refusal to withdraw from the Direct Legislation league.

Fisher is campaign manager of the Colorado Springs branch of the league. He had been given an opportunity to choose between the League and the Tiger at a meeting of Socialists, more than a month ago, but declined to make known his decision. A showdown was demanded last night, and he still maintained that the local here was acting in violation of the Socialistic constitution in its action, state Socialist officials giving the opinion that connection with the Direct Legislation league did not make him ineligible to membership in the Socialist party.

Fisher would not make known his decision, however, and last night, when the time limit given him expired, he was informed that the Socialists took it for granted he would remain with the Direct Legislation league, and that this ousted him as a member of the Socialists. He declares he will appeal to the highest Socialist authorities for a ruling, holding that his dismissal is wholly unwarranted.

"One of the tests of Socialism," said Fisher, speaking in his own behalf at the meeting, "is to withdraw allegiance from all political parties. This local tries to legislate what shall qualify membership in the Socialistic party—a direct violation of state and national constitutions. These state Socialist officials have written me, expressing their opinion that the Direct Legislation league is not a political party. Individual members here take a different view—they place their opinion above that of higher officials in Socialism—and say that I cannot belong to this league unless I quit the Direct Legislation league. I will carry the issue up to the highest authority in the party."

WOMAN STRUCK BY AUTO

While crossing Cheyenne road at Tenth street, Tuesday, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mrs. William Hills was struck by the automobile of Dr. W. T. Guilford. Mrs. Hills was taken to her home, 112 Tenth street, Tuesday, and cared for by Dr. Beverly Tucker. Her injuries are not thought serious, and seem confined to severe body bruises and a lacerated leg.

The exact manner in which the accident occurred is not known. It is said that the machine suddenly lurched and struck Mrs. Hills as she was waiting for it to pass. Dr. Guilford said last night that she started across the road, and then stopped. He changed his course accordingly, but she suddenly became confused and started again. He could not then prevent a collision, but Mrs. Hills was not knocked down.

Mrs. Hills was confined to her bed after the accident. She is a sister of Dr. A. J. Savage.

We are in a position to paint your house before July 1st. Give us a trial.

Many Churches in City Observe Children's Day

Children's day was observed in many churches here yesterday. At the Hillside Congregational an excellent program was carried out by the children during the Sunday school hour. At the morning service, immediately following, two more members were added to the church, making four admitted within the last eight days.

Christ Universalist church celebrated the day at Odd Fellows temple. After musical numbers, Harland Tucker gave an address of welcome. Paul McDaniel delivered the scripture lesson, and recitations were given by Coral Smythe, Carl Burke and Hazel Tipton.

The United Brethren in Christ church observed the occasion at the Tourist Memorial tabernacle. Special music was a feature, and Supp. R. M. Huffman gave the address of the morning, speaking on "Our Aim." Recitations were given by Master Charles Huffman, Boyd Wampler, Lela Huffman, Marie Huff, Clark Huff, Hazel Anderson, Vivian Bagby, Ethel Graham, Laura Britman, Helen Franklin and others.

Children's day was originated half a century ago by Dr. Leonard of Chelsea, Mass., a prominent minister of his time.

Letters From Outside States Seek Information—Committee Solicits Funds

Letters that are beginning to come in at summer carnival headquarters show that people outside are taking an interest in the event and figuring it in their plans for a summer in the Pikes Peak region.

One letter in particular that was received last week is indicative of this. It was from John J. Harrison, cashier of the Valley State bank at Calaveras, Calif. After having some inquiries regarding accommodations for his party, Mr. Harrison writes:

"Last year we spent about a month touring in your region by automobile, and have been thinking of coming out this year during your carnival season, which we understand will be about the 25th of August."

"We would like to have your advice as to the features for the program, and about how long it will last. Also will there be anywhere near enough rooms in private houses for the people who come? Please let me know what will be going on throughout the latter part of August."

Beginning this week, Chairman Perday of the carnival finance committee and his associates will start an active personal campaign to solicit money for the big entertainment of the summer. The way has been paved by a letter that has been sent to last year's subscribers and others, and ready a number of subscriptions have gone in. The letter in full is as follows:

Letter From Committee.

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 10, 1912.

Gentlemen: The business men and citizens generally are agreed that some action must be taken to put the Pikes Peak region on an equal basis with other resorts that are expending large sums annually to induce the tourist to visit their localities, and there seems to be no better way than by having a carnival similar to last year's celebration. Such a carnival accomplishes a number of objects. It is an inducement to people in the eastern and southern states who intend to travel on a summer trip to come here instead of going to other resorts. It provides entertainment for the tourists that are here. It attracts tourists who are staying at other Colorado resorts to change their plans and spend part of their stay here. It brings a lot of state people to the Pikes Peak region on the different days on which the local railroads make excursion rates, and most important of all, it furnishes a motive through which we can secure thousands of dollars' worth of publicity.

The plans so far contemplate an automobile day, pleasure parade, long-distance balloon race and grand Indian encampment as the central feature. As you know, to carry through such a celebration funds are the most necessary item; we are therefore including a subscription blank which we hope you will be liberal in filling out and return to us. The first 25 per cent will be due for July 1, second 25 per cent August 1, and balance on call.

These subscriptions are not donations, but a legitimate advertising expense which will bring increased business and value to property.

Yours truly,
F. C. MATTHEWS, Chairman.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE:

What the Press Agents Say

"OLD HEIDELBERG" TONIGHT

This masterly play will be given an elaborate and sumptuous production at the Opera house tonight by James Hawley and company. "Old Heidelberg" is the biggest undertaking yet assumed by Mr. Hawley, but from his work in the past and so many various roles taken by this talented actor, we judge that "Old Heidelberg" will be fully up to the usual standard of excellence.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS OF

STATE TO CONVENE

Meeting Begins Here Tomorrow Morning Registration Fee Withdrawn

The visitation of all the Sunday schools yesterday brought out the information that a keen contest is on among the schools of El Paso county for the largest registration of delegates at the state convention, which opens in this city tomorrow. The registration fee which was advertised all over the state has been called off, which figures a heavy interest in the local registrations. The county association is offering a silk banner to the school having the largest registered delegation.

Dr. J. F. Elder, president of the state association, will be in the city this evening to take charge of the convention. Others who have part on the program will arrive during the day. Arrangements have been made for the entertainment of the state officers in private homes.

General headquarters will be at the Alamo hotel, but all registrations, committee meetings, assignment of delegates, etc., will be handled by the various committees at the convention church, the First Presbyterian.

A meeting of the general committee in charge of the convention has been called for at 8 o'clock tonight at the Y. M. C. A.

Every detail has been carefully looked after, many extra rehearsals have been held, the scenic effects and the costumes will be absolutely correct, and the engaging of 20 extra people will make a production seldom seen at popular prices.

"Old Heidelberg" is not a morbid, gloomy play by any means, there is an overflowing vein of comedy not of the horse play variety—but of that irresistible kind that brings forth broad smiles and hearty applause. Every part is characteristic of the jolly German, surrounded by a mob of mischievous college students. The grand old play is made more interesting because of a pretty love-story that creeps in at times when least expected by the audience. It is from love, sublimed to the bitter-sweet, fun-loving students. "Old Heidelberg" should duplicate the big business of last week.

"THE HATERS," AT THE MAJESTIC

The cowboys on Day "L" ranch had sworn to bar the feminine sex from their thoughts, forevermore. Jim Bradley, foreman, was particularly loud in his complaint against the fair sex; so when he felt sick with a fever, Charley Williams undertook to doctor him with whisky. That failed, however, and when the official ranch doctor called that personage was highly alarmed and at once prescribed quiet and a trained nurse. He sent one—a dainty, pretty, little miss in the usual white cap and gown. But she only came after her aunt, also a nurse, positively refused to have anything to do with him.

The rangers noticed a change in Bradley's condition for the better, one day they were surrounded on peering through a window to find the nurse's face buried in his shoulder. They swore to be revenged on him.

Meantime, Charley Williams found time to bank about the house and nurse the nurse for struts. That didn't have a beneficial effect on the injured feelings of the cow punchers, either. Finally, the aunt became suspicious. She donned her bonnet and sallied forth to the range in quest of information as to her niece's long absence. It happened that the couple were out for a walk, as couples often are; so this determined man-hater went in uninvited and made herself at home.

Now, old Ben Grisco was one of the band of woman-haters. He had found, however, that the longer he knew this pretty nurse, so in proportion changed his sentiments toward the weaker sex. In fact, these sentiments changed so rapidly that he actually went to town and bought all manner of stuff. This he modestly pushed under the door. It happened at that time that the old nurse was firmly seated in an arm chair awaiting the arrival of the missing couple. She observed the offerings pushed beneath the door and finally decided to investigate. This she did by opening the door suddenly, just in time to fall fairly into old Grisco's arms. There was grand rejoicing, for instantly they remembered an old love affair and a promise of long standing.

NEW USE FOR NEWSPAPERS

From the Chicago News.

Your paper has many uses, says a writer. "It is made of good solid wood pulp, and will at a pinch supply an excellent substitute for blankets or vest. You may dress in the paper or use it for a pillow."

Many inquiries have reached the management of "The Burns" concerning reservations, but in justice to the entire public, the box office will open with an equal privilege to every person in the community, and while seat reservations may be made by telephone or letter, such orders will have to take their regular turn after the opening box-office sale.

It should also be borne in mind by those intending to attend the Tuesday or Saturday matinees that the entire first floor will be reserved for the matinee performances, and while the admissions will be small, and a few cents, the same excellent service will be in vogue on these two afternoons as will prevail at the night performances.

Those desiring to attend "The Burns" regularly during the stock season, may have their favorite seats held for them for any given performance of the week, and as these are subject to cancellation by the holders, no risk is incurred by so doing.

The early indications are that "The Burns" summer play season is going to be a revelation to local theater patrons, for nothing within reason and sound business principles will be left undone to merit the consistent support of those who find pleasure and inspiration and benefit in witnessing good plays properly presented.

At an early date diagrams of the seating arrangement of the theater will be in readiness for distribution, and all those desiring to possess such for future reference are requested to send in name and address and the same will be mailed shortly after they are received from the engravers.

"The fragments are thrown upon the floor in a thousand pieces. Then she gets up and collects these pieces, and the point is that not a fragment is lost. For this is the new way of gardening, the stepping-stone that is recommended by every doctor."

"You can do it in your own home, and do not require a garden. Thus it saves the cost of buying land and prevents exposure to the sun."

"The largest electric power station in the world will soon be erected, with 14 miles of transmission lines, the cost of a contract officially announced by which the Victoria Falls power company will supply electric power to producing run all the mines in that great group."

MIDNIGHT CONFERENCE COMPLETELY CHANGES POLITICAL SITUATION

Delegates of Every State Carried by Roosevelt
Spring Plan to That Nothing Less Than 540
Uncontested Delegates Would Be Regarded as Binding
Majority of Republican Convention Resolution Adopted at Suggestion of Illinois Members

CHICAGO, June 18.—The Roosevelt delegates in caucus early this morning voted that it was the sense of the meeting that nothing less than 540 uncontested delegates could be regarded as a binding majority of the Republican convention. This was construed by the delegates present as meaning, as one of them put it, "a bolt at the go-off."

The meeting adopted the first of a long telegram to President Taft appealing to him to disavow the action of the national committee in its defeat of the Roosevelt contests. The telegram was held up after being given out in order to get the approval of Senator Dixon.

A resolution was adopted at the suggestion of the Illinois delegation, reading as follows:
"No vote on the temporary organizations or any question concerned therewith shall be valid unless it receives the affirmative vote of 540 uncontested delegates."

This would be a majority of the 1,078 delegates constituting the full convention.

The midnight conference completely changed the situation from what it had been earlier in the evening. Colonel Roosevelt's speech at the Auditorium theater urging his followers to fight "from the jump" and the uproarious approval given his fighting words outweighed the counsel of the more moderate members of the Roosevelt faction.

Resolution in Full.
The resolution in full which was unanimously adopted by delegates from nearly every state which was carried by Roosevelt, follows:
"Resolved, That no election of temporary or other officers of this convention or resolution or other proceeding shall be taken as the act of this convention or have any effect unless it shall receive on roll call the affirmative vote of 540 delegates whose seats are uncontested and this resolution shall govern and be in force during the temporary organization of this convention and until the permanent organization is formed shall have been effected."

The resolution was first introduced by Matthew Hale of Massachusetts.

R. R. McCormick of Chicago, one of the Illinois delegates and a leader in the fight to nominate Roosevelt, was asked if the resolution did not forecast a certain bolt of the Roosevelt forces.

Resolution Would Prevent Bolt.
"This resolution would prevent a bolt," it was designed for that purpose, because if 540 delegates vote on temporary organization, you then have a convention and there could be no bolt."

The resolution, it was stated, will be introduced in the convention immediately after the convention is called to order.

Senator Kenyon of Iowa was routed out of bed after midnight and called into the Roosevelt conference. The latest proposal was submitted to him. He expressed the view that it was fair that the 10 "Cunningham" delegates from Iowa would support the proposition and that in his opinion the 26 La Follette delegates from Wisconsin and North Dakota would also.

He said he believed it would be a good idea to hold up the convention proceedings for awhile to give the people a chance for a "sober second thought" on the subject.

All this time the Wisconsin delegation was in caucus.

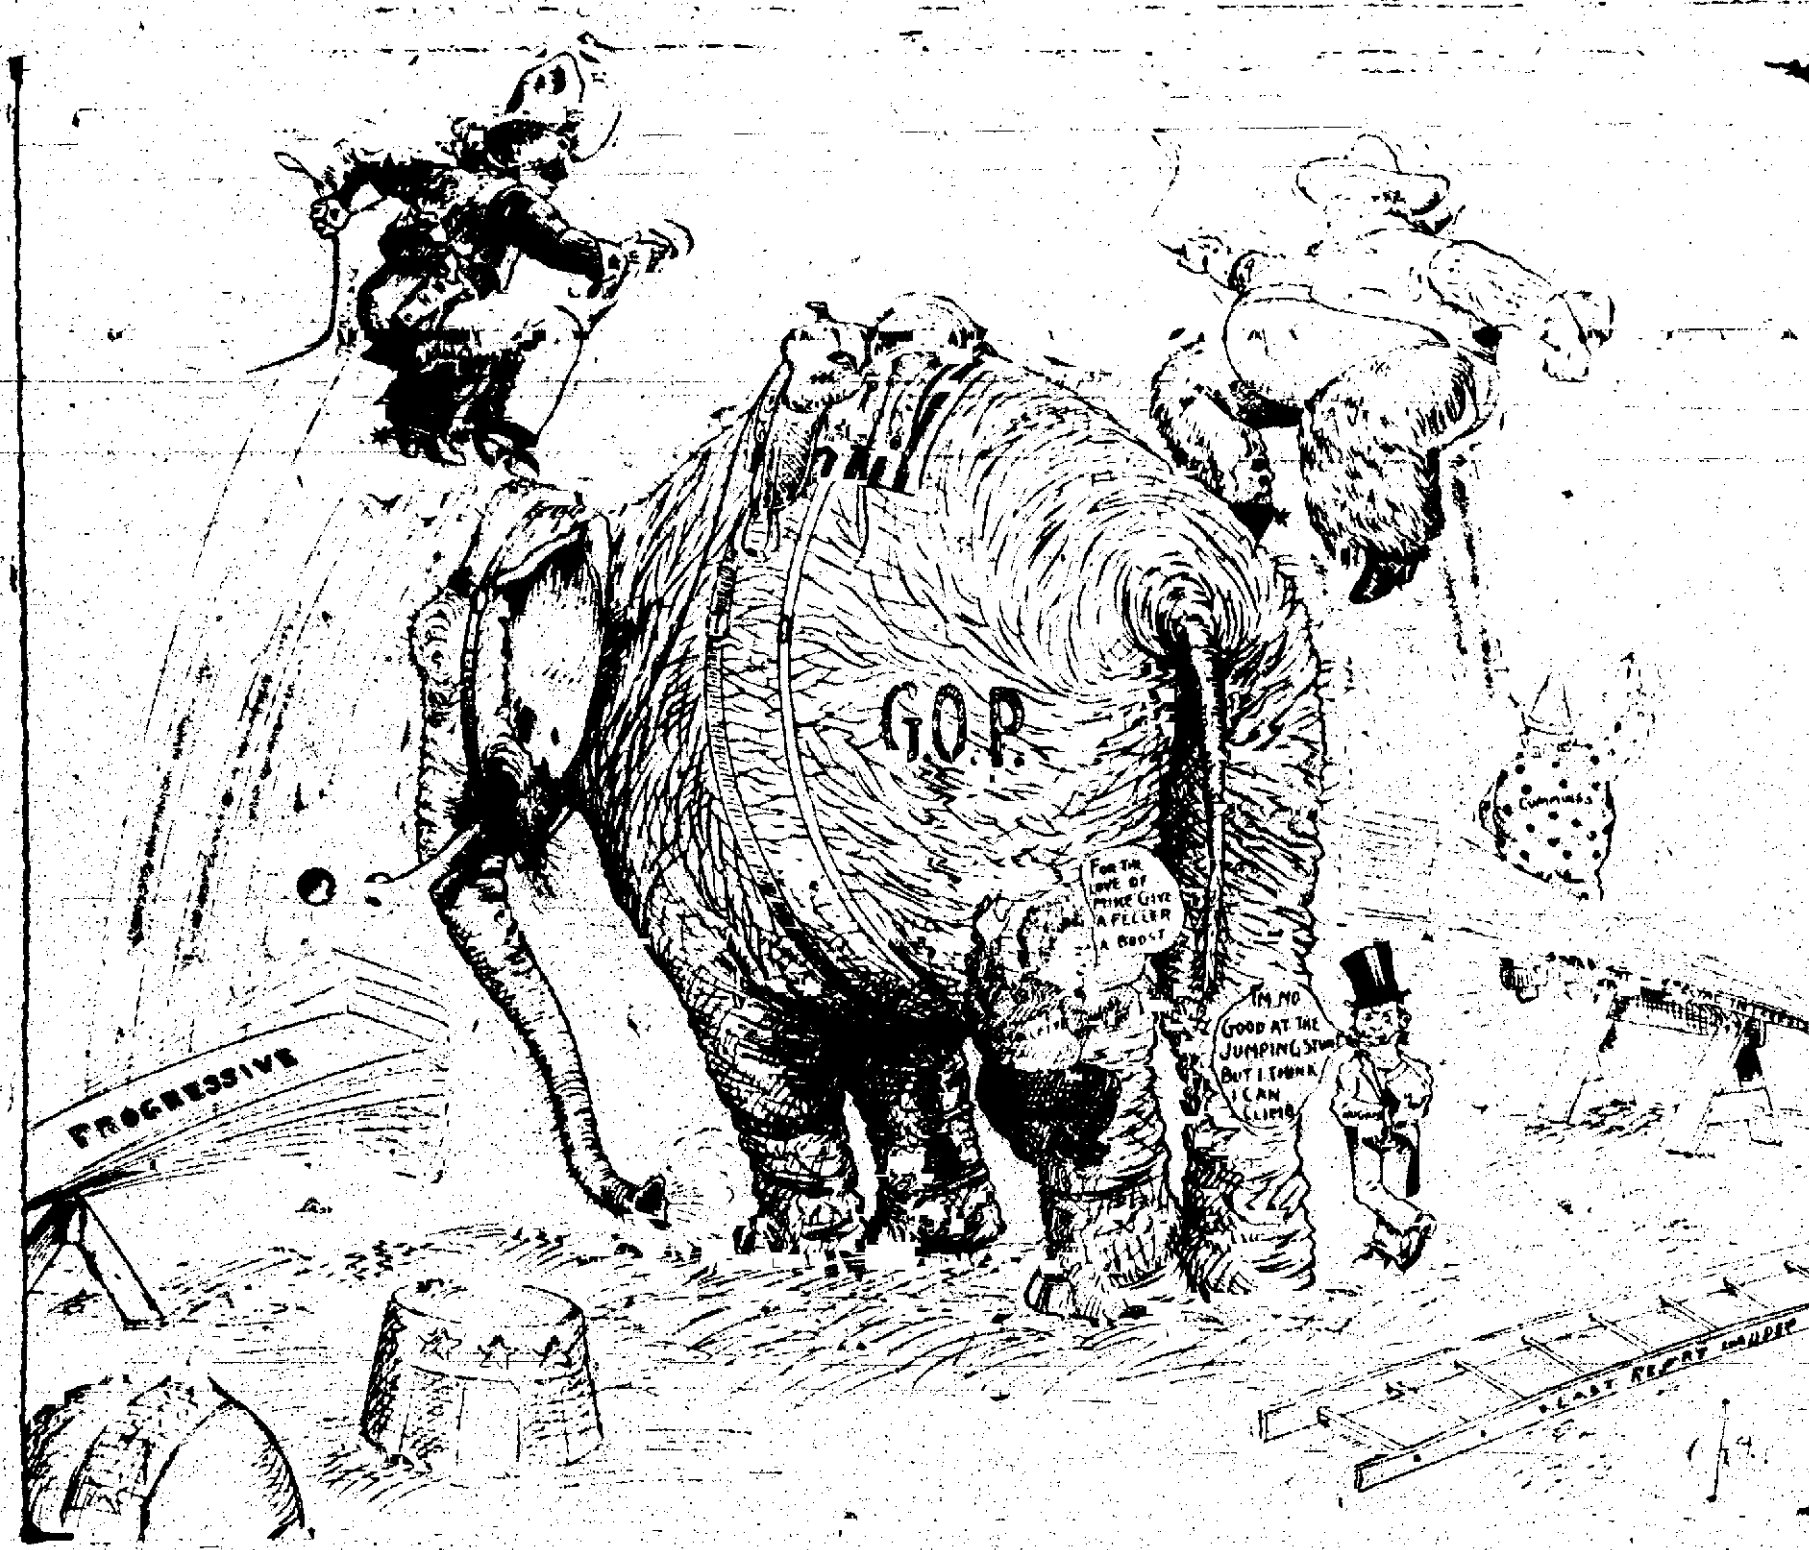

News Reaches Taft Men.
The Taft headquarters did not hear of the action of the Roosevelt delegates until some time after and no plan had been made to combat the new line of attack. It was believed, however, they would urge Chairman Roosevelt water not to entertain the resolution on the parliamentary ground that he had no other duty to perform as chairman of the national committee than to call the convention to order and present the choice of the national committee for temporary chairman.

The Wisconsin delegation adjourned soon after 1:30 without action and probably will meet again this morning.

Call Caucus to Ratify Resolution.
Early this morning a call was issued for a caucus of the following states: Pennsylvania, Nebraska, Michigan, Kansas, California, Iowa, Maine and Maryland. These delegations, while represented in the caucus, did not have their entire delegation present.

THE BIG ACT IS ON

GEORGIA DELEGATES ALMOST HAVE FIGHT 12 Negroes, Who Pledge for Taft, Try to Attack White Men Who Favor T. R.

CHICAGO, June 17.—Twenty-six of Georgia's 28 delegates to the national convention, including all the negroes, went on record for Taft at the caucus of the delegation today. Clark Grier and J. H. Boone, both white delegates, served notice that they intended to disregard the instructions and vote for Roosevelt.

Several of the negro delegates became so disorderly while Mr. Boone, who is postmaster at Hazlehurst, Ga., was explaining why he would vote for Roosevelt, that Boone lost his temper and called the disturbers "a bunch of infernal scoundrels."

The negro delegates advanced on Boone, whereupon he picked up a chair and lifted it menacingly into the air. Peacekeepers separated the combatants and Boone retired. Later he returned to the hall and apologized to the chairman.

Henry Lincoln Johnson, recognized leader of the 12 negroes on the delegation, said he thought Mr. Boone deserved an apology to those men he had designated as "scoundrels."

The task of the relative strength of Taft and Roosevelt in the delegation came on a resolution that the chairman cast the delegation's entire vote as a unit for Taft when Georgia was called in the convention.

Grier and Boone alone voted "No." J. C. Styles, J. E. Peterson and S. H. Minney, whose names were attached to the letter mailed last night by Roosevelt headquarters, voted "Yes."

The three admitted privately that they had signed the letter under the misapprehension that the state leaders had gone over to Roosevelt.

COLORADO SUNDAY SCHOOL ASSN. WILL MEET HERE TODAY

The annual meeting of the Colorado Sunday School association will convene in the First Presbyterian church, this city, at 10 o'clock this morning for a three days session.

Dr. J. F. Eber of Denver will deliver the president's address at 10 o'clock this morning, and the annual sermon will be preached by the Rev. Samuel Garvin at 11 o'clock.

The formal address of welcome will be delivered by Mayor Avery this evening.

The conference supper of the men of adult classes to be held at the Alamo tomorrow at 6 o'clock will be one of the most important events of the week.

W. A. Brown of Chicago will preside, and Charles H. Hall, formerly of this city, will speak.

A discussion of the work in adult classes will be led by Mr. Brown. All wishing to attend are requested to get their tickets early as the seating capacity is limited to 350.

Some of the Speakers.
Some of the principal speakers of the convention are:
The Rev. W. A. Brown, for some years a pastor in the middle west, then a Methodist missionary in the Philippines, then field secretary of the Young People's Missionary movement and now for two years superintendent of the missionary department of the International Sunday School association.

Mrs. Mary Foster Bryner, raised, educated and trained in Illinois, first the Catholic Primary union, then the Illinois State association, the interstate field work, the general field work for the international association, and finally for four years superintendent of the elementary division of the international association.

REV. S. E. BREWSTER ELECTED PRESIDENT State Christian Missionary So- ciety Urges Stronger Union Various Churches

The annual convention of the Colorado Christian Missionary society closed last night with an enthusiastic meeting, preceded by a banquet for the men in the parlors of the First Christian church.

The officers for next year were elected as follows: The Rev. S. E. Brewster, Colorado Springs, president; L. L. Dean, Denver, vice president; L. D. Oliphant, Denver, secretary; C. M. Morris, Denver, treasurer; and Dallas J. Osborne, Denver, auditor.

W. Dean of Denver will be retained as state superintendent of missions.

The financial report disclosed the gratifying fact that there is enough money in the treasury to last until the annual state offering for missions in November. This has never before been the case in this state.

The board, which meets in session at the Alta Vista hotel this morning, is composed of the following: G. H. Van Arsdale, Denver, chairman; J. E. Lane, Gillette, C. S. Bird, Canon City; J. F. Rickel, Boulder; S. E. Brewster, Colorado Springs; J. L. Thompson, Greeley; M. Nelson, Denver; F. W. Collins, Rocky Ford; A. L. Ward, Boulder; Jasper Bogus, Carbondale; Clark Bower, Clifton; and Mrs. Park of Denver.

The meeting this morning will dispose of quite a lot of routine affairs.

The program at the church last night was one of the most interesting of the entire convention.

H. H. Borgman of Greeley spoke on "How One Bible School Does It." Dr. Mayne M. Sanders of Denver, on "The Temperance Situation," and Dr. R. E. Coyne, Denver, on "Signs of the Times in the Kingdom."

DENVER AVIATRICE DASHED TO DEATH Mrs. Julia Clarke Was One of Three Famous Licensed Women Flyers

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 17.—Mrs. Julia Clarke of Denver, an aviatrix, was killed during a practice flight at the state fair grounds this evening.

The tip of the wing of the biplane in which she was flying struck the hub of a tree in the center of the race track enclosure and the machine dashed to the ground, turning turtle.

Mrs. Clarke's skull was crushed. She was rushed to a hospital in an ambulance and died a few minutes afterward.

The woman was unconscious from the time the accident occurred until the time of her death. Only a few spectators saw the tragedy as Mrs. Clarke was making a practice flight preparatory to the exhibition to be given here next Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Clarke was one of three famous licensed aviators in the United States. The body will be sent to Denver for burial.

Mrs. Julia Clarke became interested in aviation during the international aviation meet in Chicago in August, 1911. She became acquainted with the flyers in camp and last fall went to San Diego, Cal., to learn to operate a biplane.

With several other aviators she was under contract to fill a series of engagements in the central west this summer.

Mrs. Clarke was a native of London, England, and was married soon after her arrival in America. She had not been living with Mr. Clarke for some time, friends said. She was 35 years of age.

ASK TAFT TO KEEP PARTY CLEAN

Uncontested Roosevelt Delegates Send 1,000-Word Telegram to President

REGARDS CONTESTANTS VOTE

Appeal Is From Biased, Fractional Decision of National Committee

CHICAGO, June 17.—At a meeting of uncontested Roosevelt delegates called together after 11 o'clock tonight a 1,000-word protest was wired to President Taft against the announced intention of Victor Rosewater, chairman of the national committee, to allow the contested delegates to vote on their own cases.

The meeting was attended by all who could be drummed together at the late hour, and all were invited to sign the document.

Mr. Taft is asked to use the weight of his influence in this crisis to prevent such action by Mr. Roosevelt.

It is claimed by the protestants that there are about 25 delegates who are generally regarded as not honestly entitled to vote in the convention. It is urged as contrary to justice and to parliamentary law that these contested delegates vote on their own cases. "They will in effect vote," says the protest, "if they vote on the temporary organization of the convention."

The protest proceeds:
"Would Bring Disrespect.
A nomination by a convention so made could not command the respect of the American people. It is our desire to appeal from the biased, fractional decision of a national committee, a majority of whose members have been repudiated by the Republican party today."

"We are threatened with a denial of the right to make our appeal. This threat will not be carried out unless you at least tacitly consent to it. We raise the majority of the national committee assume to be working under your leadership."

"Will you, in the interest of the honor and integrity of the people, say that word?" "Most of the contested cases are then outlined to the president, special address being laid upon those from Texas, Washington and California."

The telegram concludes:
"These are but samples. We are willing to submit these cases to any court, to any arbitration board, to the 1,000 uncontested delegates or to the tribunal except the beneficiaries of the fraudulent decisions of the national committee. Will you remove this blot from the Republican party by calling on your supporters to disavow this action of the national committee?"

HAVEMEYER PAID HIGH TO CONTROL SUGAR CO.

NEW YORK, June 17.—It cost Henry O. Havemeyer, the sugar magnate, a premium of $100,000 above paid to obtain control of the Utah Sugar company, according to testimony today of Thomas H. Fisher, general manager of the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, in the government suit to dissolve the so-called sugar trust.

Fisher said he sold Mr. Havemeyer 74,000 shares of stock in the Utah concern at $15 a share. The fair value was $10.

The subcommittee on arrangements of the Republican national committee, under the direction of Col. Harry S. New has expended $40,000 providing the building for this year's national convention of the Republican party.

The building has 11,138 seats of which 7,888 are on the main floor and 3,250 in the balcony.

Opposing Sides Nerved for Sirenuous Struggle Today

CHICAGO, June 17. While still claiming that Colonel Roosevelt will control the Republican national convention and be nominated as the first ballot, the Roosevelt leaders spent today working out details of their plan of attack on the Taft program as outlined last night.

There was no talk of "stampede" among the Taft forces today. The president's adherents said positively that their control of the convention and the delegates seated by the national committee could not be menaced by the strategy of the Roosevelt managers.

Moderation was counseled in the two warring camps throughout the day and this had its effect. There were occasional flashes of fire and charges of "theft" and "fraud" from the Roosevelt forces, offset by charges of "bribery" and "corruption" from the Taft headquarters, but it was everywhere agreed that the day had been one of the quietest preceding a convention in years.

Tonight the Taft leaders were continuing a council of war begun early in the day, while the Roosevelt people were working things up at a remarkable meeting in the Auditorium where Colonel Roosevelt addressed a

CUBAN TROOPS ARE SCALFING REBELS

HAVANA, June 17.—General Montenegro's forces in Oriente evidently are actively engaged in the pursuit of small bands into which the followers of Estrenoz and Loraet, the insurgent leaders, are believed now to be divided.

Except for reports of small skirmishes, in which the troops have been successful, advances are meager.

Much interest attaches to the movements of the negro leader, Anto Marchal, who threatens death to all foreigners and destruction to their property, and has issued a proclamation that he will hang any peace emissary sent to him. His whereabouts are uncertain.

The rumors current today that General Estrenoz had been killed appear unfounded. It is believed he is accompanied by a handful of followers, and that the Cuban troops are in close pursuit.

COLORADO MOUNTAIN DISTRICTS SHO'BOUND

DENVER, June 17.—Reports from the mountain districts in Colorado today told of the worst midsummer snowstorm ever experienced in this region.

In the plains districts of the eastern and western slopes rain has fallen almost continuously since midnight Sunday, extending well into New Mexico.

CORDOVA, Alaska, June 17.—Three killed and one injured comprise the known casualties list of the eruption of Katmai volcano June 6, according to wireless information received here today.

For Third Time a President Is to Be Nominated in Chicago Coliseum

CHICAGO, June 17.—For the third time since its erection 13 years ago, the doors of the Coliseum will be thrown open tomorrow for the accommodations of a Republican national convention.

In 1904 the Republican nominated Col. Theodore Roosevelt for president in the building and in 1908, under the same roof, William H. Taft was chosen as the party's standard bearer.

The Coliseum is on Wabash avenue between Fifteenth and Sixteenth streets, less than a mile from the center of Chicago's retail, shopping and hotel district and is accessible from all parts of the city by elevated roads and surface lines.

The Coliseum is 395 feet long, 170 feet wide and 70 feet in height, built of stone, brick, steel and concrete and is fireproof.

OPPOSING SIDES NERVED

entertain the proposition of submitting to the convention a Roosevelt list of delegates to the list reported by the national committee.

Roosevelt Men to Fight to End.

Although Colonel Roosevelt in his speech at the Auditorium came as close to suggesting a possible bolt as
at any time during his campaign, it has been tentatively decided by the Roosevelt leaders to fight to the end,
through all the parliamentary channels open, before taking any radical step.

Colonel Roosevelt said the men
"frankly" put on the temporary role by the dishonest action of the national committee must not be allowed to vote on their own cases, or to vote on one another's.

Then he added:
"It is the duty of all the honest
members of the convention to fight that action from the moment the convention assembles. It is our duty to the rank and file of the Republican party, it is our duty to the people of this country, to insist that no action of the convention which is based on the votes of these fraudulently seated delegates binds the Republican party, or imposes any obligation upon any Republican."

This outline of the Roosevelt campaign, coming from the colonel himself, served to set at rest all doubt as to a change of program from that decided upon at a conference of the Roosevelt leaders last night—"to fight
from the drop of the hat."

What Each Side Plans to Do.

The Roosevelt leaders are going to attempt from the very start to force
to appeal their case to the convention itself, minus the contested delegates seated by the national committee. The Taft forces in control of the machinery of the big gathering, are going to insist that the proceedings shall move strictly according to precedent and that each motion shall stand the test of parliamentary practice.

On the eve of the convention both sides were plainly nerved. It was difficult enough for them to reach any sort of conclusion as to how the delegates finally would line up on the question of the nomination and next to impossible to determine just what delegates or delegations could be dependent upon the Roosevelt preliminary program. Some of the delegates instructed for Colonel Roosevelt, it was known, would not support all the moves made by his steering committee on the convention floor, while it appeared equally true that many delegates instructed for Taft did not feel obligated to support his managers on any other question. These facts throw an element of doubt into the situation.

Roosevelt Plan Fully Revealed.

The Roosevelt plan tonight stood fully revealed and but slightly changed from the tentative program advocated last night. It is to force a roll call at the earliest opportunity on the proposition to "purge" the convention of the delegates fraudulently seated by the national committee. Failing in this, the Roosevelt people will submit to a temporary organization of the convention and then carry their fight before the committee on credentials, demanding that each case be passed upon by the national committee and reheard. If defeated in this committee it is the Roosevelt plan to take the case to the floor of the convention and there to demand a further hearing on each case. This plan carried with it a threat to delay action in the credentials committee and in the convention several days, throwing the final sessions of the convention into next week or later.

The Taft managers said they were not alarmed by this plan of campaign. They said they would control the committee on credentials and that that committee would make rules which would cut off long debates and bring the hearings on the contested cases to an early close. The committee, it was said, would throw out of consideration all of the contests in which the vote of the national committee had been unanimous or nearly
so. As to what action the convention would take on the contests, the Taft leaders said they had no doubt.

500 Police to Be on Duty.

A suggestion that these tactics might savor of the "steam roller" brought out only a shrug of the shoulders. It was explained that the convention must proceed expeditiously
and according to custom.
As the plans of the opposing forces took definite shape today, all talk of physical violence in the convention seemed to die away. Fifty police took charge of the coliseum tonight, however, and Chief McWherry announced that he had decided to increase the force on duty in the hall to 500 men.
After the Roosevelt preliminary program, the chairman of the national committee, will call the convention to order promptly at noon tomorrow and will introduce the minister to offer the opening prayer. The proceedings up to this point, it is understood, will not be interrupted.
As soon as the prayer is concluded,
Mr. Roosevelt will announce that in obedience to the will of the national committee he presents Elhu Root of New York, as temporary chairman. A moment will be allowed for other nominations and Sen. William E.
Borah of Idaho will be offered as the Roosevelt candidate for governor.

Root, floor leader of the Roosevelt forces, was promised reconstitution today by Chairman Roosevelt,
for all the Roosevelt motions.

California a Test Case.

Although they have a contested case
in Alabama, the Roosevelt leaders have chosen to make their first test on the California vote, characterizing
that case as one of the "most flagrant"
of the attempts to thwart the will of the people.

Governor Johnson of California will attempt to get the entire 26 votes of his state for Senator Borah. His right to do so will be challenged by the two Taft delegates from the Fourth district, seated by the national committee. This will precipitate the fight, and the Roosevelt leaders are expected to move the substitution of a new roll for the temporary roll reported by the national committee, the motion to exclude all contested delegates from voting upon the proposition.

Chairman Roosevelt has determined upon his course. He will assert that as chairman of the national committee he has no authority to entertain any motion whatsoever, that he has nothing to do with the convention itself and that the convention is in no sense the creature of the national committee. This was the parliamentary solution of the tangle arrived at

by the Taft leaders tonight and it was asserted it would be adhered to throughly thick and thin.

Radicals Urge This For Signal.

Some of the more radical Roosevelt leaders, hearing of this plan tonight, urged that this be the signal for the
"break" and that they proceed forthwith to nominate Mr. Roosevelt in the convention hall.

The moderate members of the Roosevelt council table urged that the temporary organization of the convention was not the convention itself and the fire of the Roosevelt forces should be reserved. This does not mean there will be an absence of fight from the hall of the coliseum.

The Roosevelt leaders are anxious to get their stand before the country at the earliest opportunity and they propose to make their position clear at the outset. Colonel Roosevelt urged tonight that the fight begin at once and it will, but the first day may be confined to the credential lines.

It seemed certain tonight that Senator Root would be elected temporary chairman. Colonel Roosevelt and his staff, however, spent much of the day in centering the fight on Mr. Root, the colonel going so far as to appear before the Illinois delegation in person and make a direct appeal to his 64 instructed delegates to vote against the Taft candidate for presiding officer.
It was reported later that 20
Illinois delegates, instructed for Roosevelt, would vote for Root. Governor Cullen denied this and said not more than eight would support the New York senator.

Root Under Physician's Care.

Senator Root was under the care of a physician tonight. He could speak scarcely above a whisper, but hoped to be in condition tomorrow to make the opening address.

The Taft people tonight selected ex-Rep. James E. Watson of Indiana, as the floor leader to match with and parliamentary knowledge with Governor Hadley of Missouri. Each chief tavern will have assistants constantly at his side.

Incidentally the Roosevelt minority members of the national committee are preparing a protest to file before the committee on credentials when it comes to pass upon the contested seats. The most vigorous fight will be made in the cases of the two delegates from the Ninth Alabama district, the two from the Fourth California and all the Roosevelt delegates from Texas and Washington. This protest eventually will be taken to the floor of the convention.

If defeated in all their preliminary moves, the Roosevelt forces will continue their fight on the report of the committee on credentials and on Senator Root for permanent chairman. It will only be as a last resort that a bolt will be made, or a second convention
in the coliseum be held.

The Roosevelt forces are insisting that they will not be called upon to put their full program into effect, for they believe they can muster enough votes on one of the roll calls to throw control into their hands. Such a contingency would change the entire complexion of things.

The Taft headquarters issued statements tonight declaring that nearly all the delegates claimed last night by the Roosevelt people as having gone over to their side, today had signed pledges
of fealty to President Taft.

Dixon Claims 42 Majority.

Colonel Roosevelt before going to the mass meeting tonight expressed confidence that his followers would control the convention.
Senator Dixon, head of the Roosevelt campaign, spent hours talking with southern delegates, many of them negroes, and tonight reiterated his claim that many Taft delegates had come over to Roosevelt.

"I think we will name Senator Borah for temporary chairman in place of Mr. Root," said Senator Dixon. "We will have at least 42 majority for Roosevelt for the nomination."

Mr. Roosevelt received in his headquarters scores of delegates, among them seven delegates instructed for Cunningham, who were declared to have pledged their support to the Roosevelt organization program with two Taft delegates from Hawaii.

Members of the Wisconsin-La Follette delegation were the last to call on Mr. Roosevelt and their visit caused much comment. That some of the delegates, and probably all of them,
would support the Roosevelt organization program was reported. It was also reported that, should the La Follette delegates support the Roosevelt temporary chairman, Governor McGovern might be made the temporary chairman instead of Senator Borah.

One rumor that reached Taft headquarters was that the Roosevelt leaders had planned to place defeated contestants for seats in the convention hall in place of delegates awarded places by the national committee.
Rumor had it that Cecil Lyon of Texas and other Roosevelt members of the national committee, who had charge of the distribution of tickets for their states, would not give up the order to the defeated Roosevelt delegates. The rumor gathered momentum as it went through the crowded lobbies
and when it reached Taft headquarters
it was declared that five states were following this plan.

Scare Proves Groundless.
The report struck the Taft leaders
like a thunderbolt and within five minutes after it reached Director McKinley, Senator Root, Senator Penrose and James E. Watson of Indiana, former Republican whip of the house of representatives, conferred on the parliamentary phase of the situation. They took up the question of what course to pursue in order to bar contested delegates from the hall. It was contended that new credentials might be issued to the Taft delegates or the sergeant-at-arms of the convention might be instructed to keep the Roosevelt delegates out.

While the conference was going on a number of national committeemen were summoned. Before they arrived
it was discovered that Colonel Lyon
had turned over the Texas credentials to the Taft delegates and that there were but two Taft delegates—those from the Fourth district of California who had not received their credentials.

Summarizing the events of the day,
the Taft managers tonight issued a statement declaring there had been no defections from the Taft column and that the efforts of the Roosevelt managers to secure Taft votes was a confession of weakness.

"That President Taft has an ample number of votes for his renomination
has been conceded by Colonel Roosevelt throughout the day," said the statement. "This concession takes the strongest possible form—frankly efforts to induce Taft delegates to violate their instructions. Another evidence is that nothing is being done by the Taft forces to induce Roosevelt delegates to desert and go to Taft."

"Since coming to Chicago, Colonel Roosevelt has completely abandoned his strenuous insistence that 'all he wanted was the popular expression of the people. He now wants delegates who are instructed for Taft and wants them badly.'"

"The campaign of blow and bluster
is about ended and there is no defection in the ranks of the Taft people.
President Taft is entitled to a renomi-nation and it is proposed to use all honorable means to obtain it for him.
This is the third day that the Roosevelt people have tried to cause a stampede by misrepresentation of facts and claims of defection from the Taft ranks, and for the third time it has singly failed."

California's Delegates Active.

The Roosevelt delegates from California today sent to each delegate to the convention and to each national committeeman, a statement of the contest in the Fourth California district.
The letter characterized the case as an assault upon the whole primary system.

"If the principle in this case is to stand," said the letter, "no primary law is safe. The facts are briefly that two delegates elected and certified under the California law were arbitrarily excluded, not on any claim that they were not elected, but on a decision by the national committee that the law of California under which they were elected, was invalid because not in conformity with this year's call of the national Republican committee. In other words, when the call and the law differ, they say the law must yield."

The letter was signed by Gov. Hiram Johnson of California, and urged careful consideration of the case.

Predict Root's Election.

That Senator Root will be elected temporary chairman of the national convention immediately after convening tomorrow was asserted tonight
after a meeting of representatives of practically all state delegations.

The meeting was held at the rooms of William Barnes, Jr., of the New York delegation. It was attended by the chairman of each of the states having a "Taft delegation" and by a representative of the factions favorable to Mr. Taft in states where the president is in the minority.

Representative Olmstead, the parliamentary adviser of the national committee, told the conference that no proceeding legally would be permitted to interfere with the election of a temporary chairman as the first order of business after the prayer and the reading of the call.

After the meeting adjourned Mr.
Barnes said Mr. Root would have a majority of 52.

"No other business will be transacted until the organization is completed. This is in the line of well-known parliamentary practice and any attempt to deviate from it will be for the purpose of creating disorder to deceive the public. The battle for the preservation of the real principles of the Republican party is won."

Manager Clark Griffith of Washington is after Epps Rixey, the Virginia southpaw, and has made the youngster a tempting offer, according to advisers. But it appears that Rixey does not want to play professional ball until next season. He intends returning to college this fall.

DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO HOLD IN FLOOD

NEEDLES, Cal., June 17.—Filling and a pile driver was started down
the Colorado river from above Blythe tonight, to the break in the dyke near the Palo Verde valley.

Indians were employed to ride the rafts, while men refusing the hazard.
It is intended, as soon as the break
is reached, to send an Indian swimmer ashore with a rope, make fast the raft
of piling, and then gradually swing it
in front of the breaks in the dykes.
If this is successful, baled hay, straw and sacks of sand will be heaped in front of the piling to close the gap.

Water continued to rush through the break tonight and out onto the rich valley, destroying crops. Many ranchers succeeded in removing most of their harvested crops to higher land.
Reports of suffering come from the inhabitants of the regions opposite Old Fort Mojave.

At Needles tonight the river was stationary, but at Yuma a rise of four inches was reported.

NONMILITANT LABOR ASKS MORE SAFETY

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., June 17.—
The National Trades and Workers association, a "nonmilitant labor organization," today sent this message to the resolution committee of the Republican national convention.

"Press reports indicate that the American Federation of Labor will ask for special privilege for its members.
Peaceful workmen largely in majority will protest now and at the polls. We want no laws that cannot be enjoyed by all, and that will not protect our rights. We protest against further crippling the courts. Workmen need more, protection from the mob,
rather than less."

and the caucus for the purpose of ratifying the resolution.

When Mr. Roosevelt was acquainted with the action of his supporters, he said:

"Bully for them."
"I think I will have to shake hands
with those delegates again," he added.
"I had not heard that all the Roosevelt delegates had taken this action.
I thought it was just the Illinois delegates."

It was suggested to Mr. Roosevelt that in some quarters this action taken was an indication of a bolt.

"I will not say a word as to that,"
he exclaimed. The colonel then went to bed.

CHICAGO, June 17.—The Roosevelt leaders caucused with many of the state delegations today previous to the general caucus of the full delegations.
Twenty of the Missouri delegates who are for Roosevelt conferred with Roosevelt leaders and determined to stand by the Roosevelt program through thick and thin. They secured Walter S. Dickey for chairman of the delegation; Thomas K. Niedringhaus for national committeeman in place of Secretary Nagel; Governor Hadley for committeeman on resolutions; Jesse Tollerton, credentials committee, and Charles Rendlan for permanent organization.

At a meeting of the Ohio delegation
a resolution was adopted authorizing A. L. Garford of Elyria to cast 34 of the Ohio 48 votes for Roosevelt, and all propositions in the program of the Roosevelt forces.

Nebraska's Roosevelt delegation arrived today. The caucus selected for permanent organization, Don L. Love for rules and order of business, C. A.
Luce, credentials, H. E. Sackett, platform and resolutions, E. L. King, national committee, R. B. Howell.

Arizona in caucus adopted a plan for more liberal irrigation policy, and selected Dr. F. T. Wright for permanent organization; for rules and order of business, Dr. E. T. Wright; credentials, Robert E. Morrison; platform and resolutions, James T. Williams, Jr.; national committee, Ralph H. Cam-bron.

Caucus results in the New Mexico
delegation gave permanent organization to E. A. Cahoon; rules and order, Gregory Page; credentials, Hugo Seaborg; platform and resolutions, H. C.
Bureau; national committee, Solomon Luna. All but H. O. Bureau are Taft men.

Results in the caucuses of the Texas delegation were:
John E. Elgin for permanent organization; rules and order of business, P. E. Barz; credentials, C. A.
Warren; platform and resolutions,
W. M. McDonald; national committee,
H. F. McGregor.

The Oklahoma delegation today recognized the possibility of a bolt and in caucus by a vote of 18 to 2, defeated
a resolution binding itself to support the nominee of the convention for president and vice president.

The Connecticut delegation formally instructed for Taft. The Pennsylvania delegation passed resolutions indorsing Colonel Roosevelt.

The New Hampshire delegation named Frederick W. Estabrook as the state
member of the national committee.
W. S. Edwards was named by the West

S.S.S. PURELY VEGETABLE

The absolute vegetable purity of S. S. S. has always been one of the strongest points in its favor, and is one of the principal reasons why it is the most widely known and universally used of all blood medicines. A great many of the so-called blood purifiers are really nothing more than strong mineral mixtures which act as unpleasantly and disastrously on the delicate membranes and tissues of the stomach and bowels, that even such treatment purified the blood, the condition in which the digestive system is left would often be more damaging to the health than the original trouble. Not so with S. S. S.—it is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and at the same time is an absolutely safe and harmless remedy. It is made entirely of the healing and cleansing extracts and juices of roots, herbs and barks, each of which is in daily use in some form by physicians in their practice. Years of work and research have proven S. S. S. to contain everything necessary to purify the blood and at the same time supply the system with the purest and best tonic effects. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and it leaves the system in perfect condition for the reception of any medical advice desired sent free to all who write.

STANDARD OIL OFFICIAL TELLS ABOUT DISSOLUTION

NEW YORK, June 17.—James E.
Moffett, vice president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, was questioned today at the hearing of the suit brought by the Standard Oil company against the Waters-Pierce Oil company from throwing out the proxies
voted at the annual election in St.
Louis.

Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the Waters-Pierce interests, asked Mr.
Moffett if he received stock in all the companies at the time of the dissolution. The witness replied that he did.

"And when the 34 subsidiaries were let go, you and the other officers got together and selected the officers for the subsidiaries?"

Mr. Moffett admitted that some of the directors of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey may have arranged for officers and directors of various subsidiaries.

Robert L. Stewart of St. Louis, former counsel for the Standard Oil company of Indiana, told how he was asked to take the presidency of the Waters-Pierce company.

He said Moffett told him the Waters-Pierce company had been in trouble in about every state, and that observed federal and state laws. He said there was no intention on any one's part to take any representation away from Henry Clay Pierce, who is president of the Waters-Pierce company.

CLAIMANTS AGAINST MEXICO WILL LET GOVERNMENT ACT

EL PASO, Tex., June 17.—Not an attorney or claimant for damages from Mexico for relatives killed or wounded
in El Paso during the battle of Juarez,
a year ago, appeared at the Mexican consulate today in response to the invitation of General Consul Lorente for them to present their claims. The claimants declared it is a case for the American state department to press, and efforts are now being made in congress to have the state department
take up these claims.

You know that there are some chances whose infrequency makes them doubly worth while.

And such a chance is being offered you now in this showing of the surplus of one of the largest makers of fine suits.

Get Off the Hose

What would you think of a man's intelligence that would go out day after day to water his lawn that would stand on the hose and wonder why the water didn't flow? Yet there are thousands who are allowing their spinal bones to stand upon their nerves and wonder why they can't get well. Come to our lecture Thursday evening; we will explain why such conditions produce disease. M. F. Caspary, 218 N. Nevada.

FEEL AN ARM AT DURANGO

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The sudden and simultaneous appearance of several large rebel forces in the vicinity of Durango is the cause of much alarm, reported the American consul here. He said 500 rebels captured Juan del Rio 50 miles north of Durango yesterday and that a force of 1,000 under Morillo is 50 miles east of Durango. Other forces are reported near the city.

MEXICAN TROOPS NEARING JUAREZ

FIGHTING NEAR BORDER EXPECTED HOURLY

Rebels Against Americans at Juarez Increasing Orozco's Wife Detained

JUAREZ, Mexico, June 17.—District Attorney General Huerta has received word from the government to capture this town and the city of Chihuahua, the only two important points now held by the Mexican rebels. The approach of federal forces from Ojinaga and the east is not causing as much apprehension as the advance of big columns of government troops from the state of Sonora. It is now obvious that fighting will occur close to the American boundary within the next few days. Just at the time the campaign at Bachiamba and Chihuahua is hottest, General Jose de la Luz Blanco will advance close to the border of New Mexico with several hundred men, forming a junction, probably at Casas Grandes, on the Mexico-Northwestern, with General Guiseppe Garibaldi. The combined forces of 2,000 men will swoop down from the southwest on Juarez. It is anticipated, and it would not be surprising if the eastern wing were simultaneously assaulted by the divisions coming from Ojinaga, under General Sanchez, who conferred with the Mexican consul in El Paso today.

U. S. Expects Engagement.
That American officials are expecting an engagement here is indicated by the correspondence made public today between Colonel E. E. Steyer, commander of the department of Texas, and Pascual Orozco, Sr., father of the rebel commander-in-chief, and head of the Juarez garrison. Colonel Steyer's letter cautions the rebel commander that in case of an encounter at Juarez "you must conduct operations as not to bring any part of the territory of the United States under your fire, the use of bullets, shells, shrapnel, bombs, or other projectiles, or explosives by either of the contending Mexican forces in such a manner as to endanger life or property within the limits of the United States cannot be permitted."

The rebel reply sent by Colonel Orozco said in part: "Although the American government, trampling on the neutrality laws, orders you to sustain with all efficacy that bunch of mercenary Madristas that are acting in El Paso, I assure you that we will try in every possible way to meet the conditions of your communication, but without promising to do it in case the American authorities sanction the passing to this side of the Maderista troops which publicly are being organized in El Paso under the direction of the Mexican consul, E. C. Lorente."

One incident that added to the ill feeling against Americans which admittedly has prevailed here since the Mexican government became pronounced against the difficulty of Mrs. Pascual Orozco, Jr., wife of the rebel commander-in-chief, in crossing to El Paso today. Senora Orozco came with the wife of the secretary-general of the revolution, Mrs. Jose Cordova, and was halted with other immigrants at the international bridge but was refused admittance. The immigration authorities declare she gave the name of Mrs. Jesus Terrazas and they could not permit the passage into the United States of women using assumed names. She finally was identified as Mrs. Pascual Orozco, Jr., and crossed to El Paso. Mrs. Orozco said she and the American authorities might detain her in connection with her husband's revolutionary activity if she gave her own name.

Federals Three Times Repulsed.
AT THE REBEL FRONT, La Cruz, Mexico, June 17.—Three times today 2,000 federal cavalry under General Tibago, forming the vanguard of General Huerta's forces, pressed north toward this town only to meet the stubborn resistance of the rebel front under Colonel Antonio Rojas. The third attempt to pass La Cruz and move northward on Bachiamba, 50 miles north, where the rebel main army is gathered resulted in failure. Skirmishes which began yesterday along the Conchos river were resumed at noon today with the result that in less than two hours the federals had retired. Neither side lost heavily though the fire was at times heavy. The government troops having several machine guns in action and the rebels using effectively a 75-millimeter cannon.

General Fernandez of the rebels began the fighting along the Conchos river just outside of this village. Reinforcements were soon sent to him. General Inez Salazar, although ill, left his bed, personally to direct rebel maneuvers. The rebel force composed 1,500.

The main federal column of 2,000 men are at Santa Rosalia, only nine miles from the scene of today's fighting and the proximity of federal reinforcements may cause the rebels trouble during the night or tomorrow though they are confident tonight of staying off further attack. They fought from positions in the low hills east of the Mexican Central railroad and from ditches. The federals were entrenched in front of the town.

REFALS ANITRUST LAW WICKERSHAM'S ASSERTION
WASHINGTON, June 17.—The house has so amended the sundry civil appropriation bill as virtually to repeal the Sherman antitrust law, in the opinion of Attorney General Wickersham, if the provision is finally enacted into law.

The amendment, it is said, would legislate Jacob M. Dickinson, formerly secretary of war, out of the employ of the government as its chief counsel in the "steel trust" suit and would similarly affect Mr. Townsend, special assistant to the attorney general in the proceedings for the recovery of oil lands from the Southern Pacific company.

Sensational Allegations of Attempted Bribery Are Made

CHICAGO, June 17.—Three affidavits charging bribery by the Roosevelt forces two of them accusing Charles Banks, the rebel delegate from Mississippi, who several days ago deserted the Taft standard to join the Roosevelt forces, with using money, were made public at Taft headquarters tonight.

The affidavits were executed by the Rev. James W. Shumppert and A. Buckley, delegates, and D. M. Sherrill, alternate, from Mississippi. All are negroes.

Sherrill's Allegations.
L. W. Sherrill's affidavit alleges: "That he met Dr. S. D. Roddick of Jackson, Miss. today, in front of the Coliseum, and he said he knew I had influence with A. Buckley, the delegate from my district, and to bring Buckley over to the Roosevelt side and he would make Dr. E. E. Howard, A. Buckley and me referees of the Fifth congressional district and any other consideration I might desire."

Charges Made by Buckley.
Buckley's affidavit says in substance that: "Dr. S. D. Roddick of Jackson, Miss. on June 13, asked him if he would go with him for Roosevelt, who surely would win, and make Buckley and Dr. E. E. Howard referees for the Fifth congressional district. Buckley averred that Roddick also promised him $200 to $400, but that he declined to do so with him. The affidavit continues: "Then, on Friday, June 14, Charles Banks of Mound Bayou, Miss., who was instructed by the state convention to vote for Taft, told me that Mr. Roosevelt would surely win and he did not like the way things were carried on in Mississippi, and if I would go with Roosevelt he would give me $100,000 on the first day of the convention and $100 the second day of the convention. At the same time, Mr. Banks pulled out a roll of greenbacks and said, 'I have the money and I will give you $100 now.'"

RETURNS PECULIAR VERDICT
Jury Finds One Defendant Guilty and Other Innocent, Although Neither Tried to Clear Himself

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—Two attorneys for the defense were indisposed today and Judge Hutton granted a continuance until tomorrow in the trial of Clarence S. Darrow for alleged jury bribery.

Chief Counsel Earl Rogers was compelled to remain at his home and his assistant, H. H. Appel, appeared in court with such a severe sore throat that he was barely able to make himself heard when he asked for the continuance.

District Attorney Fredericks resisted the motion, saying the trial should be pushed but Mr. Darrow said the defense would be ready to proceed in the morning as he would conduct the defense himself if necessary.

Evidence Tends to Fasten Murder on Escaped Convicts
Special to The Gazette

CRIPPLE CREEK, June 17.—The commissioners of Teller county today authorized a reward of $150 each ($300 in all) for the arrest and conviction of the slayers of Walter Irwin at the Wither ranch Saturday night.

In the belief that the murder was committed by two escaped convicts, Charles Morgan and Marion McAdams, photographs of the two men who got away from the road gang near Limon, June 3, are being sent out broadcast over the country. Morgan who is short and heavy set was convicted of burglary in Chaffee county and was serving a two-year sentence. McAdams, who was tall and dark, was serving a sentence of from six to 10 years for assault and robbery, committed in Prowers county.

Photographs of the suspected men were identified today by Antone Geller and Cecil Triff, the two ranch hands who work with Irwin, which he was killed, and who afterwards were tied to trees while the intruders returned and ransacked the ranch house. Bartlett Gregg, a rancher who came into Cripple Creek last Friday with a load of hay and who, on his return home, was accosted by two men with rifles, who asked for work, declared they were the same as shown in the photographs. Thomas Roloffson, another rancher, at whose house a man called on Friday, is also positive of the identity of the shorter man, Morgan.

Autopsy on Murdered Man's Body.
An autopsy held this afternoon on the body of Irwin showed that a 44-caliber bullet punctured the right lung and severed the spinal cord and backbone. The bullet was found lodged in the muscles of the back.

A 44-Whitcheater rifle, such as was carried by one of the men in the ranch neighborhood Friday, was found, together with another rifle, stolen from the Wither ranch when they made their escape, were also located near here yesterday.

A further discovery is the finding of the clothes worn by the two men prior to the murder. They were secured under a bridge on the county road in Box Canon. Two suits of clothes, one a dark gray owned by Irwin and the other brown, owned by Walter Wither, were stolen from the ranch house, and it is believed the murderers exchanged clothing after escaping.

Miss Sally Copeland, housekeeper at the ranch, and a cousin of Walter Wither, who was present when the men entered the house after the shooting, was roughly handled, but escaped unhurt. The two men robbed her of $10, her watch and several articles of jewelry, and then locked her in the attic. Geller and Triff previously had been forced to carry Irwin's body into an abandoned mining tunnel at short distance from the ranch house.

The telephone wires leading from this city to the ranch were found cut. The authorities are confident the men entered this city, and a vigilant search is being kept up. Many suspicious characters have been arrested, but thus far

PRESIDENT APPEARS CALM

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Callers at the White house today never could have guessed from President Taft's manner or appearance that the Republican convention is only a few hours away. Some of the president's visitors who had not seen him for weeks expressed surprise at his cheerfulness and vigor and some of those who expected him to talk politics, came away disappointed.

This afternoon the president played golf and tonight gave a dinner to Dr. Carlos Ferrer, the speaker of the house of representatives of Cuba.

500 POLICEMEN DETAILED TO GUARD CONVENTION

CHICAGO, June 17.—Five hundred policemen including 100 plain clothes detectives will be on hand tomorrow morning to assist in preserving order at the opening of the Republican convention. Chief Mcweeney's order to Assistant Chief Schuchler and Captain O'Brien are that they take their instructions only from the sergeant-at-arms of the convention.

Mayor Harrison has personally assured the convention officers that the city police will be of the administration back of his pledge to preserve peace in and about the convention hall.

To promote the mutual interests of wireless, telegraph operators and their employers an international operator's union has been organized.

The world's demand for moving pictures now calls for the use of nearly 50,000 miles of film a year.

TALKS ON TEETH BY DR. McDONALD

The Perfect Artificial Teeth

Pure aluminum is the best material known for dental plates. It is better in many ways than a gold plate costing four or five times more. We have so perfected our process that we can make a price on these plates that is in the reach of the great majority of people.

Our Cast Aluminum Plates are the lightest plates known; they never break, are perfectly sanitary and refresh the mouth. The aluminum we use is the very purest produced. It is not affected by the secretions of the mouth, it is a perfect conductor of thermal changes and therefore allows the natural heat of the mouth to escape, with the result that the tissues are not kept hot and feverish.

Instead of the mouth and gums becoming soft, spongy, shrinking and diseased, as is the case with a rubber plate, they remain firm and healthy. A rubber plate constantly grows looser, due to the shrinkage of the gums, while our aluminum plate will fit tighter as time goes by.

If you are wearing plates that do not fit or look natural, let us make you a set of these perfect artificial teeth and your plate troubles will be over for all time, no matter what condition the mouth is in, we guarantee satisfaction in every case.

We are making a special price on these plates until July 1. If you are looking for mouth comfort you cannot afford to miss this opportunity.
